NEW ORLEANS GETS U. D. C. CONVENTION

Daughters of the Confederacy Will Meet in Louisiana City in 1913.

RAISE FUNDS FOR MONUMENT

General Scheme Evolved Whereby Each Member of Association Will Pay 50 Cents to Complete Arlington Monument.

Washington, Nov. 15.—The United Daughters of the Confederacy in convention here today voted unanimously to hold the 1913 convention in New Orleans. The New Orleans delegation made a vigorous campaign for the honor, and when the final vote came won without opposition.

The New York delegation made an effort to secure the convention for New York City, but when it became apparent that sentiment among the delegates was strongly in favor of the Louisiana city, the New Yorkers withdrew.

Today's sessions of the convention were but meagerly attended, many of the delegates making the trip to Annapolis, where they were entertained by Governor Goldsborough, of Maryland, and the Maryland Division of the Daughters of the Confederacy. The afternoon and evening sessions were devoted largely to the reports of routine committees.

A general scheme to raise funds for the Confederate monument in Arlington cemetery was adopted today by the convention. The convention passed a resolution requesting that each member of the organization contribute 50 cents to the fund during the next year. This would raise enough money to complete the monument.

Col. Hilary A. Herbert, chairman of the executive committee of the Arlington Confederate Monument Association, presented a report to the convention showing about $25,000 remained to be supplied for the building of the monument. The plan for raising the fund was immediately evolved.

Mrs. Matthew D. Stott, president general of the Daughters of the American Revolution, was a guest of the convention, and made a brief speech urging co-operation between the Daughters of the Revolution and the Daughters of the Confederacy. The convention gave a rising vote of thanks to President Taft for his activities in connection with the Arlington monument.

After an eloquent appeal today by Mrs. Andrew Jackson Montague, of Virginia, the convention voted to authorize a committee to investigate the advisability of the United Daughters taking over the management of the home for needy Confederate women at Richmond. Mrs. Montague earnestly told the convention that the care of the aged women of the Confederacy was of much more merit than the expenditure of "misdirected patriotism" in the erection of monuments and mausoleums to the dead.

A resolution by Mrs. Lizzie G. Henderson, of Alabama, directed the president general to appoint a committee to confer with the trustees of the home with a view to taking over the home.

Mrs. Roy Weaks McKinney, of Kentucky, treasurer of the committee on the Shiloh Battlefield monument, presented the report of the Shiloh fund. She reported $17,356.23 collected for the erection of the Shiloh monument, which will cost $50,000. An appeal for more funds was made and a number of contributions and pledges were received.

Reports from various Confederate homes and museums were received and a number of accessions to the Confederate Museum at Richmond were reported. Miss Sally Archer Anderson, of Virginia, pleaded for the support of the Daughters in the maintenance of the Richmond museum.

Tonight a bevy of children of the Confederacy presented a wreath of flowers to Mrs. Frank G. Odenheimer, the presiding vice president of the convention. The reports of committees were then continued.

Meantime another round of social functions occupied the delegates and there were many empty seats in the convention hall. A reception to the Daughters was given at the Pan-American Union building by John Barrett, director general of the Pan-American Union. The general officers of the organization and a number of Washington society women were in the receiving line. A reception was also held for the Daughters by Camp 171, United Confederate Veterans, at the Confederate Memorial Home.

Tomorrow the Daughters will elect officers and visit the home of George Washington at Mount Vernon. The officers of the organization will undoubtedly all be re-elected.

T. R.'S PLURALITY NOW 99

Official Canvass of San Francisco County Increases His Vote

San Francisco, November 15.—The official canvass of San Francisco county late this afternoon gives Roosevelt a net gain over the earlier figures of 70 votes, making his plurality in the entire State 99, with only Los Angeles county yet to be heard from officially.

WILSON'S ACTION APPROVED

Democrats Are Glad President-elect Has Decided to Call Extra Session of Congress to Revise the Tariff.

Washington, Nov. 15.—General approval was voiced in Democratic circles tonight over President-elect Wilson's decision to call an extra session of Congress to revise the tariff. The announcement was in line with the almost universal recommendation of Senate and House leaders, and it met instant response tonight from Speaker Clark, Senator Williams, William J. Bryan and from Senator Dixon, Col. Roosevelt's campaign manager.

Earlier in the day Speaker Clark had voiced his desire for the extra session in strong terms. A similar statement had been made early in the week by Senator Martin, Democratic leader of the Senate.

Although the White House would not comment upon the announcement from New York, friends of President Taft said the latter had hoped the Democrats would not bring on any further disturbance of business.

Senator McCumber, of North Dakota, Republican, expressed another Republican view, namely, that he favored "getting it over with."

In all Democratic headquarters the extra session was strongly approved. Congress will begin in a few weeks preparing for the arduous work and tariff revision. The approaching short session, which ends March 4th, when the Republican administration goes out, will be engrossed with annual appropriation bills and routine business, but the Ways and Means Committee of the House will begin work on the new bills in January.

Democratic Leader Underwood, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, is expected in Washington next week. Members of this committee, charged with the duty of framing all tariff bills, agree with the position taken by President-elect Wilson that repeated investigations of tariff schedules have made unnecessary a long investigation.

The Ways and Means Committee will begin January 1st, probably upon the wool, cotton or metal tariff bills. If the plan adopted when the Democratic House began work two years ago, revising the tariff schedule by schedule, is adhered to, it is expected that several bills will be ready for introduction in the House as soon as the special session convenes.

William J. Bryan, when informed of Governor Wilson's announcement, said: "I am very glad to hear that Governor Wilson has determined to call the extra session. It was the wise thing to do. I expected that it would be done."

Senator John Sharp Williams, of Mississippi, said; "I think we would be stultifying ourselves if, after putting the revision bills up to a Republican President as we did to President Taft last session, we should fail to show our purpose of putting up these necessary revision bills to a Democratic President. Perhaps some amendments may be suggested at the extra session to those bills to revise the tariff that already have passed Congress, in the light of any information that may have in the meantime developed. The sooner the tariff legislation can be accomplished the better it will be for all concerned."

Senator Dixon, of Montana, chairman of the Progressive National Committee, said: "I think Wilson has done the wise thing in calling an extra session."

Senator McCumber expressed the Republican view, saying: "I suppose the sooner he starts the disturbance the better. I do not think the Democrats will attempt to put through such a measure as their platform calls for. I do not think they dare do it. Their platform declarations were all right to go before the people with, but they know as well as we do such a revision of the tariff will bring consternation to the country.

"I never knew an extra session that did not defeat the man who called it. President Taft had a dose of it."

WILSON WILL CALL AN EXTRA SESSION

Announces He Will Convene Congress by April 15th. to Revise Tariff

SAILS FOR BERMUDA TODAY

President-Elect Issues Statement to Set at Rest Speculation as to What He Would Do With Regard to Revision.

New York, Nov. 15.—Governor Woodrow Wilson announced tonight that immediately after his inauguration as President of the United States he would call an extraordinary session of Congress to convene not later than April 15th, for the purpose of revising the tariff.

The President-elect will sail for Bermuda at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon for a vacation and will return December 16th. To set at rest in the meantime speculation as to what he would do with regard to the tariff revision, he issued the following statement:

"I shall call Congress together in extraordinary session not later than April 15th. I shall do this not only because I think that the pledges of the party ought to be redeemed as promptly as possible, but also because I know it to be in the interest of business that all uncertainty as to what the particular items of tariff revision are to be, should be removed as soon as possible."

Beyond this brief announcement the Governor said he had nothing further to say. Most of the opinions he had received from public men seemed to be in favor of an extra session, he declared.

The Governor did not intend to express himself about an extra session so soon after his election. Although he has favored the idea of an extra session because the present arrangement would not bring the new Congress into session until 13 months after its election, he had asked to spend more time in ascertaining public opinion. With the time to be consumed in discussion the Governor felt that if an extra session were not called, the benefits of tariff revision would be postponed for practically two years.

Throughout the campaign he reiterated that he desired an immediate revision of the tariff and that the Democratic leaders know perfectly well how to proceed about it. The Governor was impressed by the argument also that with an early announcement as to an extra session Democratic leaders in Congress could begin to take counsel at an early date so that much of the preliminary detail could be worked out before Congress convenes on April 15th. The Governor was prompted incidentally in making his early announcement by the fact that many members of Congress were desirous of arranging for accommodations in Washington for the extra session if there was to be one.

Though the President-elect means to rest while in Bermuda, he really expects to give a good deal of time to quiet thought about the problems that face him. He will sketch his annual message to the New Jersey Legislature and will do some extensive reading on data on the tariff, monopolies, banking and currency reforms and other issues.

The Governor came to New York tonight to attend the dinner given in his honor by his classmates, Princeton, '79. He expected to have no political conferences while in the metropolis and seemed fully confident that he would not be disturbed by any political callers while resting in Bermuda. All the prominent men in the campaign just closed, the Governor said, knew his intention of postponing the consideration of political subjects until his return.

"I'll feel like dancing a jig when I get aboard that boat," said the President-elect, as he left Princeton today, accompanied by Mrs. Wilson and her three daughters. Oddly enough, there was a special car on the same train en route from Philadelphia to New York, carrying 16 business men, one of whose number was paying a bet of $5,000 which he wagered a year ago that a Democrat would not be elected this year. Charles B. Prettyman, a real estate man, of Philadelphia, who won the bet, was, however, according to one of its conditions, to spend $1,500 for a dinner in New York for a party of 16 business friends. The Governor smiled when he learned of the affair.

The President-elect will sail on the steamship Bermudian, one of the regular boats plying between New York and Hamilton, Bermuda. Besides the Wilson family, a stenographer and three servants, there will be 10 newspaper correspondents along. The party will arrive in Bermuda Monday. The President-elect has leased a cottage on a remote part of one of the islands, where many a season heretofore he has spent his vacation. Immediately upon his arrival in Bermuda, he will call upon the Governor of the island and request him to consider his presence in Bermuda entirely informal and unofficial.

"I'm going to try to be 'incog'," said Governor Wilson tonight, "so that I may have no functions of any kind while there."

DEFENSE RESTS IN TRIAL OF GUNMEN

Dozen Witnesses Testify in Support of the Four Gangsters' Claim

"DAGO FRANK" ON THE STAND

Attempts to Prove Alibi on Night of Murder—Lawyers Will Sum Up Monday and Case Will Go to The Jury Tuesday

New York, Nov. 15.—The case for the defense in the trial of the four gunmen accused of killing the gambler, Herman Rosenthal, was completed today. Nearly a dozen witnesses testified in support of the gunmens' claim that the two informers, Harry Vallon and "Bridgie" Webber and an unidentified stranger had fired the fatal shots at the gambler; that three of the defendants, "Gyp the Blood," "Lefty Louie" and "Whitey" Lewis, were on the scene only as innocent spectators and that the fourth, "Dago Frank," was not there at all.

"Dago Frank," a diamond pin flashing from his tie, a gold watch and chain dangling from a waistcoast of the latest cut, told on the stand as the first witness of the day the story that purported to be his alibi on the night of the murder. He left "Gyp," "Lefty" and "Whitey" at "Bridgie" Webber's poker rooms just after the mysterious stranger had invited them all to go to the Hotel Metropole, where Rosenthal was staying, to see Jack Rose, he said. He went to the home of his girl, Jean Gordon, he swore. When he got there he found that she had been arrested and he went to the police station to bail her out. It was not until then that he heard of the murder of Rosenthal, he declared. Then followed testimony from the lips of an old woman which corroborated the stories told yesterday by the other three defendants, that Webber and Vallon were the real gunmen in the case. The witness was Mary Kydd, who was selling newspapers near the Metropole on the morning of the murder and who testified that she saw four men fitting the description of Jack Rose, Sam Schepps, Webber and Vallon in a group near the hotel and that the shots fired came from that group. She did not see the four defendants there at all, she said.

Giovanni Stanish, eye-witness for the State, was called in rebuttal before court adjourned and while he was on the stand, Rose, Webber, Vallon and Schepps were brought into the court room and lined up against the railing in front of which the gunmen were sitting. Stanish testified he had not seen them at the Metropole.

The gunmen turned in their seats and the sneers and savage glares that passed between the two quartettes, who faced each other in one room for the first time since their arrest, excited the keen interest of the spectators. The informers will be called in rebuttal by the State tomorrow. It was upon the understanding that they fired no shots at Rosenthal that they were given immunity from prosecution.

It is expected that the case will be in the hands of the jury by Tuesday. The lawyers indicated today that they would spend all day Monday in summing up.

OUTLINES

General approval was voiced in Democratic circles last night over Wilson's decision to call an extra session of Congress to revise the tariff.

A fight against the administration of President Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, will be taken up next week by Socialist delegates to the convention.

The United Daughters of the Confederacy in convention at Washington yesterday voted to meet in 1913 at New Orleans, all opposition to the Louisiana city being withdrawn.

The defense in the trial of the four gunmen indicted for the actual killing of Rosenthal, the gambler, rested its case yesterday. The lawyers will sum up Monday and the case will go to jury Tuesday.

President-elect Wilson announced last night on the eve of his departure for Bermuda today, that he would convene Congress in extraordinary session not later than April 15th to revise the tariff.

Striking miners last night attacked a passenger train on the Cabin Creek branch of the C. & O. Railroad near Charlestown, W. Va., and refused to allow it to proceed because two carloads of strike-breakers were attached.

Bulgaria and Turkey yesterday agreed upon an armistice. The situation at the scene of the fighting in the Balkans is more perplexing than ever. Adrianople is said to have fallen, but the report is still unconfirmed. Cholera is spreading among the Turkish soldiers along the Tchatalja line and is wreaking havoc.

New York markets: Money on call firm, 5 to 6 per cent; ruling rate 5 3-4; closing bid 5 1-4; offered at 5 1-2. Spot cotton closed easy. Flour easy. Wheat easy; No. 2 red 1.08 to 1.09 1-2. Corn easy, 54 cents. Turpentine easy. Rosin quiet.

GUNMEN'S JURY CARED FOR IN HOTEL

The jurors who are hearing the testimony in the gunmen's case are being treated exactly as those who convicted Police Lieut. Becker. They are stopping at the Murray Hill hotel at an expense to the tax-payers of $7.50 per day and they make the trip to and from the Criminals Courts building in a sight-seeing auto at a further cost of $10 a trip for four trips a day.

SOCIALISTS OPPOSE GOMPERS

A Fight Against Administration of President of American Federation of Labor Will Be Waged By Radical Wing

Rochester, N. Y., Nov. 15.—A fight against the administration of President Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, is to be taken up next week by Socialist delegates to the convention in this city. The delegates of the radical wing number 84, according to J. Mahlon Barnes, of Philadelphia, National campaign manager of the Socialist party and a delegate to the convention from the Cigar Makers' International Union, who will lead the fight.

This group constitutes less than one-fourth of the delegates, but Socialists say many will come under their banner when the fight opens.

The first skirmish is expected when the committee on resolutions reports the resolution of Delegate Duncan, of the United Mine Workers' Union, providing for the election of officers of the federation by a referendum vote of its 2,000,000 members. The Atlanta convention of the federation adopted a resolution favoring this method of election, provided it was found upon investigation by officers to be practicable. The report of the executive council made earlier this week indicated that 52 National and international unions, affiliated with the federation, had declared against the proposal and 23 unions had favored it.

Socialists assert that officers of the federation, including President Gompers, are opposed to election by referendum and that if the plan is adopted the defeat of President Gompers and his associates on the executive council is certain.

Delegate Barnes said the members of the radical wing would attempt to put through a resolution favoring the withdrawal of federation officers from membership in the National Civic Association. According to Barnes the National Civic Federation is supported entirely by its members outside the labor movement and on that account some of the delegates believes its purposes are not for the good of labor.

An unconfirmed rumor late today has it that Duncan McDonald, of the United Mine Workers, is to be an opponent of Samuel Gompers for the presidency of the federation.

The Mining Trades Department held a brief session today to organize and will hold a business session tomorrow. Charles H. Moyer, of the Western Federation of Miners, president of the department, presided.

There was no session of the convention of the American Federation of Labor today, the adjournment last night having been until Monday morning. As explained by President Gompers this recess is to allow the committees ample time in which to prepare their reports.

Fort Worth, Texas, Nov. 15.—Four jurors were secured officially and two talesmen examined today in the trial of John Beal Snead, banker accused of having murdered A. G. Boyce, Sr. ranch owner. So far nine jurors have been accepted. All of the men are farmers and married.

CLARK DETAILS CONFESSION

Dynamiter Tells How He Carried Explosive Around In Market Basket And Arranged to Blow Up Non-union Jobs

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 15.—Carrying dynamite about in a market basket was the way Edward F. Clark, an iron worker, testifying at the "dynamite conspiracy trial" today, said he arranged to blow up non-union jobs.

Clark, an official of a local union in Cincinnati, pleading guilty at the beginning of the trial of the 45 accused men in the illegal transportation of explosives indictments.

In detailing his confession on the witness stand he told of personally blowing up a railroad bridge across the Miami river at Dayton, on May 3rd, 1908, and of leaving an umbrella which bore his initials. Clark asserted officials of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers induced him to do dynamiting.

Once, he said while inspecting work in Cincinnati, President Frank M. Ryan pointed to a railroad cross the Ohio river and said: "There would be a good place to put a shot."

Before that, the witness said, Herbert S. Hockin, now secretary of the union, arranged to supply him with dynamite.

"Having kept the dynamite in my house over night," said he, "I took it the next night to Dayton, where I placed it on a bridge over the Miami river. It was raining hard so I left my umbrella over the bomb to protect it, lit the fuse and departed.

The next day in Cincinnati Hockin did not appear anxious to pay me the $100. He had a newspaper account of the explosion. Finally he gave me $97 on the street.

"When the question of blowing up the Harrison avenue viaduct in Cincinnati came up Hockin said he was not going to let me do it, as McNamara and Ryan were not pleased with the way I had done the Dayton job. I had left behind an umbrella with my initials, he said, and they were likely to catch me. I went into dynamiting, Clark continued, because in listening to others, I was inflamed with a foolish idea that that was a good way to carry on a campaign against non-union work. I certainly knew I was committing a crime."

On cross-examination by attorneys for the defense, Clark admitted he had been convicted on numerous charges, but denied he ever had been indicted for highway robbery or had withheld the union's funds.

Ortie E. McManigal's testimony today was interrupted to enable the government to question other witnesses. In his testimony so far McManigal had named 17 of the 45 men now on trial for alleged illegal shipment of explosives as having helped him in his blasting operations or as having been represented to him as knowing about them.

Lake Chrales, La., Nov. 15.—Company K, of Lake Charles, tonight received orders to proceed to Merryville, where the employes of the American Lumber Company are on strike. Local officers have been notified that serious trouble has been threatened, but so far as they know no actual clash has occurred. The company will leave shortly before midnight and will reach Merryville about daylight.

BULGAR AND TURK AGREE ON A TRUCE

Armistice is Arranged to Get Negotiations for Peace Under Way

VARIOUS REPORTS DRIFT IN

Adrianople Is Said to Have Fallen And Bulgarians Are Reported to Have Taken Hademkeui—Cholera Spreading

London, November 15.—Bulgaria and Turkey have agreed upon an armistice, according to a special news agency dispatch which reached this city this afternoon from Bucharest, Roumania.

As the censorship permits no news to come from the front, the situation at the scene of the fighting in the Balkans is more perplexing than ever tonight.

Various reports have drifted in, however, among them that Adrianople has fallen, that the Bulgarians had captured Hademkeui, the headquarters of the Turkish commander-in-chief, Nazim Pasha; that the Turkish general, Issimo, had capitulated and that the Bulgarians, either by sea or by land, had reached the vicinity of Kilios on the Black seacoast, a short distance from Constantinople. These reports are still without confirmation. A vague dispatch is published stating that six forts along the Tchatalja line have been captured after what are described as heavy sacrifices on the part of the Bulgarians.

All the reports previously published through the Vienna Reichspost or emanating from other sources, go to show that the Bulgarians are having no easy task. Nothing is known as to whether the battle continues. The British government has received no news from the seat of war for some days.

What perhaps is of graver import than the progress of the hostilities in Southern Europe, however, is the revelation of the tremendous ravages cholera is making, not only among the destitute refugees who daily are arriving in thousands at Constantinople, but among the Turkish troops on the Tchatalja lines. It is supposed that this danger well might suffice to give the Bulgarian commanders a pause and induce the Bulgarian government to arrange an armistice and negotiate peace since all the practical objects for which the war was undertaken already have been secured and therefore, it is useless to run the risk of an epidemic of cholera in the Bulgarian army for the sake of a formal entry into Constantinople, to avoid which, it is believed, Turkey is ready to agree to almost any terms.

A significant article appears in the Bulgarian government organ, The Mirror. It declares that peace is imminent and holds out the olive branch to Turkey to enter into a good understanding with the Balkan league.

A Constantinople dispatch to the Cologne Gazette declares that Bulgaria has abandoned her intentions to enter Constantinople, being thus advised by Russia and Great Britain. Although the report that an armistice already had been arranged has not been confirmed, all indications point in that direction and it may be supposed that the terrible conditions of famine and destitution prevailing among the refugees in the neighborhood of Constantonople which are calculated to provide a hot bed for the spread of cholera, may have had something to do with Bulgaria's decision.

From other points at the seat of war comes news of the occupation of the Peninsula of Mount Aethos by the Greeks and the march of the Greek army from Saloniki to join in the Servian attack on Monastir. This attack, according to a Belgrade dispatch, began yesterday with an encounter between Turkish and Servian cavalry near the city of Monastir.

A report received at Berlin asserts that disorders are occurring at Saloniki. Bulgarian and Greek soldiers are said to be plundering and maltreating the Mohammedan inhabitants who are besieging the foreign consulates for protection.

The Turkish government has issued a batch of dispatches signed by war correspondents of the Paris Temps and Journal des Bats, the Berlin Lokal Anzeiger and Tageblatt, the London Daily Mail and other European papers denying reports of atrocities alleged to have been committeed by Turkish troops.

Bulgaria's terms of peace to Turkey as reported at Vienna and sent from that city by the correspondent of the Daily Telegraph consist of seven stipulations.

Included in the first stipulation is the surrender of the Tchatalja army and its withdrawal, guarded by Bulgarians.

The second provides for the evacuation by the Turks of Adrianople, Scutari, Monastir and Janina.

The third calls for payment of a war indemnity.

The fourth demands the surrender of conquered territory.

The fifth calls for the internationalization of Constantinople.

The sixth provides for opening the Dardanelles and making Saloniki a free port.

FOOTBALL THIS AFTERNOON

Washington and Wilmington High Schools Elevens Will Battle on The Gridiron for Second Time This Season

League Park will be the scene this afternoon of what promises to be a hard fought football game when the local High School team meets the speedy eleven from Washington, N. C., for the second time this year, the first contest resulting in a victory for the Wilmington boys by the score of 6 to 0. The local team is the only one which has scored on the Washington Highs this season, they having defeated Elizabeth City 6 to 0 and Newbern 40 to 0.

The local High School team has by far the best record in the State, having played five games with some of the strongest Tar Heel High schools. In only one game were they scored on and in this contest they were handicapped by the effects of two hard games only a few days previous. With a short rest followed by four days of hard practice the boys are now fit and, backed by the student body, they are confident of victory this afternoon.

The Washingtonians arrived last night, 15 strong, and express themselves as confident of turning the trick on this occasion.

"Red" Monroe, for the locals, at right end has all the sprint that his

The Washington team will line-up in the following order: Sanford, center; Taylor and Howard, guards; Jones and Harris, tackles; Meekins and Moore, ends; Fowle, full back; J. Weston and E. Weston, half backs, with Smith at quarter.

The officials for the game are all competent. They are: Mr. Russell, LaFayette, referee; umpire, Mr. Smith, Davidson, and Mr. Lynch, High School, head linesman. A convenient street car schedule will be maintained and the crowd which will no doubt turn out for the game will be handled in comfortable style.

LUTHERAN SYNOD.

Delegates Visit Fort McPherson—Stirring Mission Report.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 15.—Delegates attending the Lutheran Synod of the South, in session here today visited Fort McPherson, where they attended a reception and witnessed dress parade. Rev. L. A. Fox, D. D., made a stirring report at the morning session on home missions and church extension work, urging the establishment of a $50,000 fund. Addresses on this subject were made by Rev. W. H. Greever, Columbia, S. C.; Rev. J. L. Miller, Greenville, S. C.; and Rev. J. L. Morgan, Raleigh, N. C.

ERNEST WELSH GUILTY.

Participated in Tarring of Mary LaValley at West Chesterfield.

Norwalk, O., Nov. 15.—The jury in the case of Ernest Welch, charged with participating in the tarring of Mary LaValley at West Clarksfield on the night of August 30th, tonight returned a verdict of guilty of assault and battery. Welch was the first to be tried of six men indicted on a charge of "riotous" conspiracy.

NICK WILLIAMS CASE

Another Chapter In Famous Case May Come In Yadkin

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Greensboro, N. C., Nov. 15.—It was learned here this morning that another chapter in the now famous Old Nick Williams whiskey cases is to be started in the courts of Yadkin county within a few days. These cases have now reached such a stage as to involve points between United States Revenue Commissioner Cabell and some of the most prominent lawyers of the State as well as Mr. Williams, Collector George Brown and others, not to mention the hundreds of gallons of whiskey which started the litigation. The new chapter is to be in the nature of a personal issue between N. Glenn Williams and District Collector George H. Brown, of Statesville, Mr. Williams admitting before his departure for Yadkin county this morning that he was going to quit being the defendant and get over on the other side of the docket for a time. He proposes to start a civil action in Yadkin county against Collector Brown, alleging that he has wrongfully, and at great loss, refused to sell him government whiskey stamps.

It has also developed that before his departure District Attorney Holton wrote a letter to Collector Brown advising him that it would be best to go ahead and sell the stamps to Mr. Williams. That would tend to indicate that Mr. Williams' contention that he has been wrongfully denied the rights of buying stamps and consequently suffering great loss in his whiskey deliveries was in a sense justified. Mr. Williams has also made the allegation that the stamps were maliciously withheld from him. The old suit involving Collector Cabell and about 38,000 gallons of whiskey belonging to Williams and which the government seized for alleged irregularities but which Williams contends do not nor did not exist has just been referred to Standing Master Price.

WESTERN WIRE TAPPERS

Wife of Defunct Bank President Tells Of Husband's Losses

Chicago, Nov. 15.—Mrs. Margaret L. Kirby, wife of the president of the defunct Kirby Savings Bank, today in United States Judge Landis' court related an involved story of banking and gambling which reached a point of dramatic intensity late this afternoon when two suspected swindlers were brought before Mrs. Kirby and the court for identification. Mrs. Kirby could not identify the two men whom she had charged with swindling her banker husband of $60,000 through a fake wire-tapping scheme. Kirby and his nephew, Daniel Kirby, also failed to identify the men. Every sentence to the woman's confession today further implicated her husband in the failure of his private savings bank. She told of how she trustingly made bank deposits under fictitious names under her husband's orders. In simple narrative style, she told of wild night rides in taxicabs when she carried from $10,000 to $20,000 in a small black handbag, hurrying to Kirby that he might have more funds with which to engage in the alleged wire-tapping scheme.

Mrs. Kirby averred today that she was almost penniless, having even turned over her jewelry to her mother in order to obtain money with which to employ counsel. The case will be continued tomorrow.

MIAMI AIDS TWO VESSELS.

Revenue Cutter Has Exciting Experiences on Maiden Trip.

Washington, Nov. 14.—The new revenue cutter Miami began her career as a guardian of the shipping of the Atlantic Coast with two exciting experiences on her maiden voyage from Newport News, Va., to Key West, Fla., her station, where she has just arrived.

When 10 miles out off the Charleston lightship, according to a report received today by Captain Bertholf, commandant of the service, from Captain Gamble, of the new cutter, the Miami sighted the schooner Blanche H. King, of New York, flying a signal of distress. The schooner was boarded and the captain reported incipient mutiny among her crew. The ring leader was placed in irons.

Following this, the Miami discovered the three-masted schooner H. M. S. Bentley, of Nassau, waterlogged and with her cargo of lumber nearly all adrift. The master, his wife and three children were taken aboard the Miami, the remainder of the crew provided for and the vessel towed to Key West.

The Miami is the sister ship of the Unalga, which was intercepted at Port Said on her maiden voyage around the world and ordered to assist in protecting American life and property in Turkey.

STATE WILL REST TODAY.

Large Number of Witnesses Heard at Allen Trial Yesterday.

Wytheville, Va., Nov. 15.—After the examination of one witness tomorrow, the State expects to rest in the trial of Sidna Allen for the murder of Judge Thornton L. Massie. A large number of witnesses were examined today, all but one of whom had testified at previous trials growing out of the Hillsville tragedy, and their evidence was a repetition of what they related when on the stand before.

Eli A. Puckett was a member of the Carroll county jury that convicted Floyd Allen, which conviction precipitated the Hillsville shooting. He was placed on the witness stand today for the first time and partially corroborated the evidence given by Deputy Sheriff Fowler to the effect that Sidna Allen shot twice at Judge Massie, after the latter had fallen out of his chair mortally wounded.

He could not positively identify the man he saw doing the shooting as the prisoner.

In cross examining witnesses today the defense sought to bring out the position of Sheriff Webb with reference to other court officers when the firing began. The defense contends that the sheriff was shot by one of the other officers.

SUICIDE IDENTIFIED.

Man Who Killed Himself at Tampa, Fla., a Swedish Lieutenant.

Tampa, Fla., Nov. 15.—Documents found in the effects of Lieut. Fred De-Mannerfelt, who committed suicide at a local hotel early today by shooting himself through the heart, identify him as the son of Major F. Mannerfelt, of the personal staff of King Oscar, of Sweden. Other papers show that he was a member of the Swedish team in the recent Olympic games at Stockholm, Sweden.

The dead man had been in the city only a few days and little is known of him here. He left letters addressed to two citizens of Boca Grande, Fla., where he is believed to have been spending a vacation. He also left a note for the manager of the hotel apologizing for his act.

No reply has been received to cablegrams to the Swedish capital notifying relatives of Mannerfelt's act.

MAYOR LUNN IN JAIL.

Refuses to Pay $50 Fine for Violating City Ordinances.

Little Falls, N. Y., Nov. 15.—Mayor George R. Lunn, of Schenectady, will spend tonight in the Herkimer jail. He refused to pay the $50 fine imposed on him today in the local recorder's court for violating a city ordinance, and chose to begin serving the alternate sentence of 50 days in jail pending the perfecting of an appeal.

The mayor said he hoped his appeal would be brought before a higher court and acted upon tomorrow so that he could be in Schenectady Sunday to conduct his usual services at the People's Congregational church there.

T. R. FINALLY WINS

Gets California By 66 Votes—Democrats Charge Fraud

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 14.—California complete, gave Roosevelt a plurality tonight over Wilson of 66 in considerably more than half a million votes.

These figures were official from all but three counties—San Francisco, Los Angeles and Yuba. In Los Angeles, a Roosevelt stronghold, the Democrats filed a petition with the District Court of Appeals for a writ of mandamus compelling the board of supervisors to make an honest count. Arguments on the application will be heard Monday.

Gross irregularities are charged by the petitioners, one of whom is Miss Mary Foy, a wealthy resident of Pasadena. That tally sheets in 38 precincts were removed from the election returns by the breaking of the official seals also is alleged.

The tally sheets, it is asserted, were made unintelligible by the judges of election and changed in such a manner that more than 600 votes were affected. These votes if counted as originally intended, or if unintelligible as alleged and not counted at all, would have materially reduced the plurality of Roosevelt in Los Angeles county, according to the petition.

Bald Hills, the last Northern precinct to straggle in today, brought a smile by failing to change the result. Staunchly Republican, the precinct cast four votes for Taft, one for Chafin and none for the two leading candidates.

Ocala, Fla., Nov. 14.—"Preech" Nells, the negro arrested for the murder of Miss Mary Stevenson and her grandfather, J. B. Berges, aged 80 and assault on the girl, at McIntosh, near here, was lynched here this afternoon. A mob of more than 200 surrounded the jail and after overpowering the jailor took the negro about two miles from the town. Here he was freed and told to run. As he fled the contents of scores of guns were emptied into his body, literally shooting him to pieces.

Mark Twain—one of the most beloved of American Authors — was a great smoker and fond of a pipe.

SOME day you'll pack a load of Prince Albert in your jimmy and find out what real pipe-smoke is. And the sooner you do it the more fun you'll have. That's how P. A. has started millions of men to smoking a pipe steady. In two years it has doubled the number of pipe smokers, made the pipe twice as popular. No tobacco could do that unless it had the goods.

AFFAIRS AT STATE CAPITAL

District Attorneyships Being Discussed—Hanover Provision Company —Portrait of Gov. Speight— Southern Appointments

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 15.—Talk among members of the State Democratic Executive Committee here for the meeting last night to canvass the vote in the Senatorial primary brings to light a number of reported aspirants for the two positions of United States District Attorney in this State.

For the western district attorneyship that has been held for 12 years by E. A. Holton, of Winston-Salem, Hon. W. E. Moore, former Lieutenant Governor, is an avowed candidate and there are strong indications that W. C. Hammer, of Ashboro, for many years solicitor of his district, and Hon. Chas. A. Webb, chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee, are also being spoken of in a way that indicates that they will be formidable possibilities for the appointment.

In the eastern district the man probably most spoken of for the place, but who has not yet indicated his candidacy is Mr. J. W. Bailey, of Raleigh, who has been a vigorous supporter of Woodrow Wilson from the beginning of his candidacy and who did signally successful campaigning for Senator Simmons in the Senatorial primary. Then there are those who are mentioning freely E. F. Aydlett, of Elizabeth City, and Hon. Francis D. Winston, of Bertie, who was the chairman of the last Democratic State convention and campaigned throughout the State as an elector at large. Both of these positions which are likely to be filled with Democrats instead of the present Republican occupants soon after the advent of the Wilson administration, are sure to bring out an abundance of candidates.

A charter was issued today for The Hanover Provision Co., of Wilmington, capital $10,000 authorized and $800 subscribed by W. E. Etheridge, W. P. Gafford and others, for mercantile business.

Governor Kitchin made public five pardons today just granted, all on recommendation of trial judge, solicitor and other officers and citizens. They follow:

Hugh Postell, Buncombe county, who has served five years of a 30-year sentence for second degree murder, was defended by Governor-elect Locke Craig, who urged the pardon.

W. A. Price, Brunswick county, who has served seven months of a year's sentence for selling whiskey in three cases, physical condition being very bad.

June Alston, who has served five of a seven-year sentence in Warren county, for manslaughter.

Raeford Dew, Wilson county, served five years of seven-year sentence for second degree murder.

E. L. Avery, Lenoir county, serving nine months for selling whiskey.

This afternoon at 4 o'clock in the presence of a splendid audience in the State Senate Chamber there was the ceremony of presenting to the State of North Carolina, by the Sons of The Revolution, of an oil portrait of Governor Richard Dobbs Speight. This presentation is in line with an established policy of the North Carolina Society Sons of The Revolution, of presenting a portrait of some North Carolina Revolutionary patriot to the State each year. Hon. J. Bryan Grimes, president of the Society Sons of the Revolution, presided. Prayer was offered by Rt. Rev. Joseph Blount Cheshire, bishop of the diocese of North Carolina and member of the society. The address on the career of Governor Speight was delivered by Mr. A. B. Andrews, Jr., of this city, member of the society. He sketched most interestingly the career of Gov. Speight in Revolutionary service as aide to General Caswell, his able civil service to the State and Nation after the war as a member of the Continental Congress, Governor of North Carolina and in other capacities. He was killed in a duel at Newbern in 1802 by John Stanley as a result of a political quarrel. The portrait, which is the work of Mr. Jacques Busbee, of Raleigh, was accepted in fitting terms by Mr. Thomas M. Pittman, of Henderson, member of the North Carolina Historical Commission.

There is great interest in the coming of Hon. William Jennings Bryan to Raleigh Monday to deliver an address Monday night in the auditorium for the benefit of the Hospital Committee of the Woman's Club, the proceeds to be devoted to furnishing the hospital. Mr. Bryan has designated no special subject for his address but it is understood that he will deal with a number of National questions and the attitude of the incoming Wilson administration to them.

It was with a unanimous vote that the State Democratic Executive Committee last night adopted the resolution by J. R. Blair, of Montgomery county, urging upon President-elect Woodrow Wilson the selection of Hon. Josephus Daniels, National committeeman from North Carolina, as a member of his cabinet. Mr. Blair declared that Josephus Daniels required no eulogy at his hands among North Carolina Democrats and his resolution went through with a rush with a further proviso by A. D. Watts that copies be sent to the North Carolina delegation in Congress for use at the proper time. It is believed that Mr. Daniels will seek appointment to secretaryship of the Interior. He was chief clerk in this department under Hoke Smith during Cleveland's administration.

A Raleigh freight division of the Southern Railway Co., with Jno. R. Andrews hertofore commercial agent, as division freight agent, in charge and with offices in this city, is announced by the Southern Railway Co., much to the gratification of the people of Raleigh, this city having lost out in 1904, as a division freight headquarters when a consolidated office was established in Greensboro. Mr. Andrews, a son of Col. A. B. Andrews, first vice president of the Southern, has been in the service of the company from youth up, and has abundantly earned his promotions by faithful and effective service. The Southern also appoints Hamilton Baxter, of Greensboro, as division freight agent there to succeed the late G. G. Thompson.

R. A. Rowe, connected with the W. A. Simpkins truck farm here, had a miraculous escape from death today when a street car crashed into a wagon he was driving on Newbern avenue. The impact threw him out and knocked the horse over on him, where the horse kicked and struggled over him for several minutes. He emerged with broken bones, is badly mashed and bruised, but will recover.

The North Carolina Society, Sons of the Revolution that presented the painting of Governor Richard Dobbs Speight, Sr., re-elected, at its annual meeting just held, all officers as follows: President, Hon. J. Bryan Grimes, Secretary of State; vice president, Dr. D. H. Hill, Raleigh; secretary, Marshall Delancy Haywood, of Raleigh; registrar, Prof. W. E. Stone, of St. Mary's school; treasurer, Mr. W. W. Robards, of Raleigh; chaplain, Rev. Robert Brent Drane, D. D., of Edenton. The board of managers is composed of the officers and Messrs. A. B. Andrews, Jr., Raleigh; Gen. G. A. Woodruff, Raleigh; Prof. Collier Cobb, Chapel Hill; Col. Chas. E. Johnson, Raleigh; Thomas Maslin, Winston-Salem; Walter W. Watts, Charlotte; James O. Carr, Wilmington; Capt. Willis G. Peace, United States Army, West Raleigh; Dr. Charles Lee Smith, Raleigh. The society is 19 years old.

THANKSGIVING AT ELON

Arrangements for Observance of the Day—Inter-Collegiate Contest

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Elon College, N. C., Nov. 15.—Thanksgiving will be duly celebrated as usual at the College. Morning exercises will be held at 11 o'clock in the chapel, at which time the annual offering for the Orphanage of this place will be taken.

Following this Thanksgiving service the annual banquet will be served in the dining hall at west dormitory, to which happy event both faculty and students look forward with the fondest anticipation for real pleasure and delightful intercourse.

At 8 P. M., in the College chapel, the Philologian Literary Society holds its annual celebration and all who are familiar with these evenings will spare no effort to be present. An unusually attractive programme has been prepared. Messrs. G. Paul Ingle and W. Duncan Ley will deliver orations. Mr. C. C. Johnson has "College Cuts" for this occasion. The chief event of the evening, however, will be the debate. Query:. "Resolved, That it would be unwise to vocationalize the public schools of our land." Messrs. O. D. Poythress and R. A. Truitt will support the affirmative, with Wm. C. Franks and J. V. Knight presenting the opposition.

The public is cordially invited to attend these exercises.

Interest is beginning to be aroused in the State Inter-Collegiate Peace contest to be held in the auditorium at Raleigh during the sitting of the next Legislature. Elon will hold her preliminary contest, probably in December, to decide who shall represent this institution in the State contest. The following have entered for the preliminary test: Messrs. J. F. Morgan, A. T. Banks, J. V. Knight, O. D. Poythress, W. T. Dowd, W. R. Hardesty, F. P. Harwood, N. E. Woods, F. F. Myrick, I. J. Kellom.

O. C. WILKERSON DEAD

Well-Known Tobacconist of LaGrange —Child Burned to Death

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., Nov. 15.—The remains of O. C. Wilkerson, a prominent tobacconist of LaGrange who died in Raleigh yesterday morning were brought to that town yesterday afternoon. The funeral was held today. Mr. Wilkerson's death followed an operation for appendicitis several days ago in a hospital in the capital city. He was a native of Roxboro, N. C., and came to this part of the State when a boy. He attended school in Hookerton, and afterward worked on a tobacco farm in Greene county. He then came to Kinston, and was employed in a tobacco warehouse here. After remaining in this city about a year, Mr. Wilkerson went to Enfield, and from that town to LaGrange, where he engaged in the warehouse business, and was remarkably successful in the venture. Possibly to no other man is LaGrange so much indebted for its commercial and civic progress, and certainly no man was more popular in the community. He possessed all the qualities of a successful business man, and his capability coupled with his untiring energy resulted in the amassment of a fortune of no mean proportions. He is survived by his mother, wife, four children, the oldest about six years of age, and one brother, J. R. Wilkerson, of LaGrange.

The seven-year-old son of Ed Spikes, a farmer of Carr's township, Greene county, was burned to death in a distressing manner. Mrs. Spikes left the boy in the kitchen of the home, and when she was alarmed by a noise and re-entered the cook room, she found him prostrate on the floor, the stove overturned and lying on his back. He was horribly burned, and scalded on almost every portion of his body by boiling water from a kettle. He lived about 24 hours, and was in great agony until his death.

TEACHERS' TRAINING SCHOOL.

Interesting Exercises at Greenville— To Present "The Mikado."

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Greenville, N. C., Nov. 15.—The Literary Societies have been rehearsing all the Fall on "The Mikado," an opera, to be given December 9th. Miss Muffly, the expert coach, is putting forth her best efforts on both the dramatic and singing features. The costumes will be furnished by a professional costumer and the Japanese setting will be effectively reproduced in the stage arrangements. There is much enthusiasm and practically the whole school is at work. There are 50 in the choruses. The school has established a high standard of public entertainment. This promises to be the best thing it has yet done.

The Lanier and Poe Literary Societies are making interesting and extensive plans for the year's work that will be valuable trianing to the members in developing initiative and team work. The classes have organized and elected officers and advisors.

President Wright attended the last meeting of the Wayne county Teachers' Association and made a talk on Teacher Training. He brought back good reports of the Teachers' Training School girls who are teaching in that county. At the Pitt county fair held this week the school takes part in the Educational Day.

Miss Porter, Students' secretary of the Young Women's Christian Association, in a recent visit to the school made arrangements for the Students' Council of the Y. W. C. A. in this territory to meet here some time during the Winter.

Different members of the faculty and ministers from the town of Greenville have been conducting the Sunday evening Y. W. C. A. services. These services are well attended and the music is always good.

There are two mission and two Bible study classes that are doing good work.

Dr. R. T. Vann, president of Meredith College, Monday evening delivered an address on the Dignity of the Calling of Teaching. He treated his theme in an easy, informal manner that made the non-teacher element in the audience feel it was for them as much as for the prospective teachers.

It is the purpose of the school authorities to give the students each year an opportunity to hear the leaders in the educational thought of the State.

REBEL LEADERS CAPTURED.

Two Mexicans Caught on the Border by American Forces.

Washington, Nov. 15.—Two more Mexican rebel leaders have been captured along the border and are being held by Brigadier Generad Steever, in charge of the American forces along the boundary, according to a report today to the War Department. The prisoners are Felipe Casaras, who was paymaster of Gen. Orozco's army and who later was said to be collecting funds at El Paso for the revoluticnists, and Pedro Figueroa, who is claimed to have been a member of the rebel band which a few weeks ago captured and held Arthur P. McCormick, an American ranch manager, until he paid $1,200 ransom.

ASHEVILLE MAN ARRESTED.

THE MORNING STAR

WILMINGTON STAR COMPANY, INC.,
Wilmington, N. C.

Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at Wilmington, N. C., under Act of Congress, March 2nd, 1874.

FULL ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.

PUBLISHERS' ANNOUNCEMENT.

THE MORNING STAR, the oldest daily newspaper in North Carolina, is published daily except Monday, at $6 per year, $3 for six months, $1.50 for three months, 50 cents for one month, served by carrier in the city, or by mail.

THE SUNDAY STAR, by mail, one year, $1; six months, 50 cents; three months, 25 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES may be had on application, and advertisers may feel assured that through the columns of this paper they may reach all Wilmington, Eastern Carolina and contiguous territory in South Carolina.

Obituary sketches, cards of thanks, communications espousing the cause of a private enterprise or a political candidate, and like matter, will be charged at the rate of 10 cents per line, or if paid cash in advance, a half rate will be allowed. Announcements of fairs, festivals, balls, hops, picnics, society meetings, political meetings, etc., will be charged under same conditions, except so much thereof as may be of news value to readers of the paper.

Advertisements discontinued before expiration of contracts are charged transient rates for time actually published. Payment for transient advertisements must be cash in advance. Contract advertisers will not be allowed to exceed their space at same rates, or advertise anything foreign to their regular business, without extra charge. Advertisements to occupy special place will be charged for according to position desired.

TELEPHONES: Business Office, No. 51; Editorial and Local rooms, No. 61. Call either, if the other doesn't answer.

COMMUNICATIONS, unless they contain important news, or discuss briefly and properly subjects of real interest, are not wanted; and if acceptable in every other way, they will invariably be rejected unless the real name of the author accompanies the same, not necessarily for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith.

Saturday, November 16, 1912.

If you want something you can't get where you are, come to Wilmington and get it.

George W. Perkins lost some of his money by financing a pipe dream about a third term in the White House.

One sign that the Turks are not cleaning up the Balkan allies is that the Sublime Porte is not making any ridiculous claims to victory.

A man will dutifully and humbly go to the picture show with his wife so she won't think of going to a $2 performance at the theatre.

The people feel kindly towards President Taft because he was only an innocent bystander while they were gunning for the big elephant and the Bull Moose.

About all that is left for the Associate editor of the Outlook to do is to assault the corpse of the Republican party which is to try to come back as a Republican club.

At last accounts California was still warring between Roosevelt and Wilson. If the State finally gives the Bull Moose a majority it will confirm the belief that California is full of prunes.

Go and blow for Wilmington but don't go tand blow in your money in an effort to determine whether the elusive pea is under the thimble or whether the pea isn't under the thimble.

A good imitation of a reactionary is a fellow who contracts a grouch because his candidate didn't get elected. A fellow who is not willing for the majority to rule ought to quit calling himself a progressive.

Charlotte boasts of a banker who looks like Woodrow Wilson, but Wilmington has a clergyman who looks so much like the new President that he could have lots of fun holding receptions in South Carolina.

The Hon. William J. Bryan's latest progressive proposition is to permit ex-Presidents to patricipate in debate in either House of Congress. They are liable to get in a heated argument with a windjammer who may be seeking a reputation at the expense of dignity.

One way to make a man uneasy is for his wife to sit up till midnight and stop the clock at the hour at which he arrives. He knows he cannot dispute a timepiece which has been stopped on him and he gets so he hates the clock for giving him away.

General Grant had so little to say that he was called "the silent man," but the General was never so sepulchrally silent as Republican Chairman Hilles since the election. He hasn't made any more noise than a cross roads graveyard since the landslide happened.

A beliggerent minority proves by its acts that it is not progressive enough to put up with the rule of the people. A fellow who keeps on being obstreperous after he is beaten will never be remembered in the will of the peopl when it is filed for probate. Good losers always find something else when they try.

Depending on the votes of the people for an office is a precarious business, but somehow or other politicians like to take the chance. Few of them can get rich on the average official salary, but many die poor spending what they make in order to hold on to the office. Being a peanut politician with honest intentions is almost as profitless as betting on the ponies.

COMMERCE NORTH AND SOUTH.

The commercial eligibility of Southern ports continues to be emphasized in the shifting of the world's ocean trade. It is said that American trade with Europe is declining and that we must turn to South America and the Orient for new markets. In New York, Mr. Theo. H. Price, one of America's great cotton men, publishes "Cotton and Finance," a valuable magazine devoted to commercial matters, and from it we take the following:

"In the past century the great flow of commerce has been east and west, especially between Europe and North America, says 'Judicious Advertising', of Chicago. It is possible, and even probable, that we are entering upon an era of vast trade development between the northern and southern continents. The United States can no longer supply the demand of Europe for wheat. Our exports of cereals have been declining for ten years or more on account of the growth in home demand. Our exports of meats and provisions have also been declining, because the home demand has established a higher level of prices than the European consumer will pay. Latin America has more foreign trade at the present time than the United States had twenty years ago, and it flows north and south. The southern hemisphere has vast undeveloped resources in land and materials which have been awaiting the call of commerce. Both Europe and America must look to the South in the future for more and more of their raw materials. On the other hand, the countries south of the Mediterranean and the Mexican Gulf have neither the coal, iron nor labor to build up manufacturing industries, but must obtain their vast requirements in the way of industrial products from the northern continents. Each year is recording a rapid growth in the way of the world's commerce from the North to the South, and eventually the volume will exceed the East and West movement between the northern continents. The manufacturer must look to the South for the markets of the future."

This means that the United States must eventually look to the countries to the south of us for export trade. The article above states a fact as well as makes a prediction, and it will be noted that in the actual decline of wheat exportation, it will be left mainly to the South with its cotton to compete with Europe for the balance of trade between this country and the eastern continent. Cotton and cotton products now constitute more than 50 per cent. of the values of the exports of the United States, and if we are not to see our great export commerce decline we will have to discover something to take the place of wheat in our commerce with Europe.

If we must depend upon South America for future trade we will find there a great wheat growing industry that is in competition with our own. We would not do any wheat business with that country, so we will have to depend upon our manufacturers to make up for our loss of grain exports. What the opportunities for doing that are will be a matter of study, and it is none too soon to be looking thoroughly over the new field. Competition from Europe will meet us there, and if we cannot keep up our great export trade, the world will soon have the advantage of us in the balance of trade. In other words, we will buy more than we sell, a condition which is greatly to the disadvantage of any country.

We are inclined to believe that there is a great future for trade between the United States and the Latin Americas and Pacific countries, and when the prediction comes true that commerce must flow to the southward, it is evident that the ports of the South will have a tremendous advantage for the handling of the future commerce of this country.

Anyhow, the South with its great cotton crop will continue to be the great source of supply of the chief export of the United States.

SECTIONALISM'S ICY BROW

"Sectionalism wiped out" is heading of many newspaper editorials concerning the election of Woodrow Wilson to the Presidency. Sectionalism? Where is any sectionalism? Most of the sectionalism we hear about is on paper. Sectionalism that has any rankness about it has on it whiskers that are fifty years old. Sectionalism has had an icy brow for scores of years.

President-elect Wilson was a boy about eight years and four months old when the Civil War closed, so only in tradition and history had he any part in that conflict. He was born Christmas week in 1856 at Staunton, Virginia, and while he is a son of Virginia, he is a grandson of Ohio. He is also a grandson of Old England on his mother's side and is a great grandson of Old Ireland on his father's side. His grandfather, James Wilson, was a native of Ireland, and his father, the Rev. Jos. R. Wilson, D. D. was a native of Ohio. The President-elect's mother was Miss Janet Woodrow who was born in England, but she came to the United States when she was a little girl.

Woodrow Wilson is a native of Virginia, is a stepson of North Carolina, a stepson of South Carolina, the stepson of New Jersey, and the son-in-law of Georgia. He belongs to the South, to the North, to the West and to the East, for he is a thorough American. He was the son of a Northern father, who had removed South prior to the war, and when Woodrow Wilson was wearing knee pants sectionalism was growing out of all the elder Southerners, and neither was he raised upon it in a religious home where we know the homelife was as tender and sweet and beautiful as in any home in America.

There isn't any use to mention sectionalism now. It is about as cold as a wedge from the frosts of fifty Winters. Less than one-fourth of the Southern people today were here during war times. All but a small per cent were born since the war, when sectionalism of the bitter kind was fast dying out. There is no sectionalism in the South when it comes to voting for a President. The South has voted 44 years for Northerners for President and Vice President, and now the North has returned the compliment by voting for a Southerner who spent many years of his boyhood in Wilmington.

Woodrow Wilson was a schoolboy in Wilmington, and was also a Sunday School "scholar." He attended the Sunday School of the First Presbyterian church in this city, as also did Dr. Edwin A. Alderman, the distinguished president of the University of Virginia. These two eminent educators and Sunday School scholars were firm friends in their young days and while Dr. Alderman was president of the Virginia University and Dr. Wilson was president of Princeton, that friendship came to a full fruitition, so that today they are bound together by the closest of ties.

Dr. Alderman was born in Wilmington and Dr. Wilson was all but a native. Because these two Sunday School boys turned out so well, twenty years ago the late Mr. James Chadbourn, superintendent of the Sunday School, felt so proud of them he presented the pictures of Dr. Wilson and Dr. Alderman to the Sunday School as an object lesson and reminder to the future boys of the school. Those pictures are today hanging on the walls of the Sunday School room, and they have been there for years. New significance is attached to them since one of the boys will be President after the 4th of next March. The other one is big enough to be President, and President Wilson knows it. They know it on each other.

PACKING HOUSES FOR THE SOUTH

Mr. L. L. Gibson, of Macon, Ga., writes an exceedingly interesting article to the Manufacturers' Record of November 14th, in which he urges the necessity for packing houses in the South. If the South ever expects to be really independent, Mr. Gibson is correct, for packing houses and cold storages will not only conserve our production of perishable products but they will promote production.

The main question will be one involving competition with the already great established packing houses of the country. With competition on a fair basis, small packing house companies with $500,000 or $1,000,000 capital would succeed, but if the monopolists are to undersell till they crash the smaller concerns such ventures here would have very little chance of success.

We believe, however, that the time has come when competition will be on a healthy basis, and that packing houses and cold storages are needed it is not difficult to observe. Nevertheless, if they are to be on anything like a commercial scale the South will have to produce cattle and dairy products to furnish business for them. We will have to produce something to pack. We ought at least to produce our own livestock and dairy products so we can feed ourselves without being drained of millions of dollars by the cattle-raising and dairying sections of the country.

After the 4th of March this country will have a government which proposes to do away with the system of taxing the people to make millionaires of the few. The custom of taxing the people for the enrichment of the few is "well enough" for the few. When you hear the slogan "let well enough alone," it originates with the few who are standing pat on a prosperity that is a sure thing for them. Many men who are scarcely making both ends meet think they are prosperous because they are able to keep out of the poor house, and they have been known to vote to let "well enough alone" for the other fellow's benefit.

Something for nothing is equivalent to a false set of hen's teeth.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Taft shows no evidence of disappointment. He was expecting it. As Governor-elect Craig put it, "Everybody is happy; Republicans because Roosevelt was not elected; Progressives because Taft was defeated; and Democrats because Wilson was elected." There is general satisfaction presaging a new era of good feeling.—Raleigh News and Observer.

The London correspondent of The Advance writes that Rev. A. C. Dixon is scoring a fine success at Spurgeon's Tabernacle. "Last Sunday night," he says, "I was in the Tabernacle and saw it crowded from floor to ceiling. There wouldn't have been room for an organ if one was wanted. But Dr. Dixon had broken the old Spurgeon tradition, for there was musical accompaniment—a grand piano, and an American organ. And didn't the hymns just go!" We are glad to read that this North Carolina boy is repeating in London his uniform record of success as a popular preacher. He did right to insist upon musical accompaniment. It helps mightily—insomuch that in face of its helpfulness even the conservatism of our Seceders has broken down.—Charlotte Observer.

Strange doings! Here is a President of the United States, an office holder and a political leader, cheerfully pointing out that the election of his successful opponent is going to be in some respects at least a good thing for the whole country. Hurrah for Mr. Taft! Only a big man could have talked as he talked to the United Daughters of the Confederacy in Washington Tuesday night. All that he said about his own efforts in behalf of the South was the modest truth. This section has never had a better friend in the White House than he has proved himself. It is true, as Mr. Taft said, that the Cleveland administration first spelled peace for us, but William Howard Taft was the first Republican President to realize the fact that the war is really over, the first to lay out for himself a genuinely statesmanlike policy toward a section from which he had nothing to expect in the way of political support, the first to refuse absolutely to make the territory South of Mason and Dixon's line the football of administration politics.—Charleston News and Courier.

Evidences multiply that the Atlantic Coast Line contemplates entering Charlotte. Tentative surveys have already been made between this city and Hartsville, S. C., and betwen this city and Wadesboro, according to the impression of the Chronicle. A careful survey is now being made between Fayetteville and Wadesboro and The News and Observer surmises that the compani plans to build between these points immediately and continue on from Wadesboro to Charlotte, thus securing an east-and-west line that will traverse a wealth-producing section of the State and put it in line to secure a portion of the heavy freight tonnage into and out of Charlotte. Our contemporary remarks upon the fact that the section lying between Fayetteville and Wadesboro, the great sandhill section which is undergoing a most remarkable development just now, will very shortly be one of the most desirable sections of the State from the standpoint of transportation companies, the tonnage of cotton, fruits, fertilizers, etc., being enormous already and rapidly increasing, while if the line touches Southern Pines and the sandhill resorts the passenger traffic would be well worth while during the Winter season.—Charlotte Chronicle.

It is a commentary on the prosperity which the Southern States are enjoying at present, that while only eight railroads in the United States were in position to initiate, resume or increase dividends, during the past year, when business throughout the country as a whole was none too good, four of those railroads, or 50 per cent. of the total, were those operating through the Southern States, according to the Boston Herald. These include the Atlantic Coast Line, which in November, 1911, increased its dividend rate from 6 to 7 per cent.; the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis, which increased its dividend in July, 1912, from 6 to 7 per cent.; the St. Louis Southwestern, or the "Cotton Belt" railroad, which increased the dividend on its preferred stock from 4 to 5 per cent. in June last; and Southern Railway preferred which increased its rate from 1 to 2 per cent. last February, and increased it again in September last to the full 5 per cent. Commenting on conditions in the South, a prominent Southern planter recently said to The Herald: "We are only beginning to know how to raise cotton down here. Take all these farmers around here, that operate about, say a 'three-mule farm' (approximately 100 acres). A few years ago they only grew half a bale of cotton to the acre. Now, by the use of fertilizers and rotation of crops, they are getting one, one and a half or two bales to the acre. Their chief trouble now is that they cannot get the cotton picked. Take last year for instance, when we had the 16,000,000-bale crop. I had to plough 10 per cent. of my crop under because I could not get 'niggers' to pick the cotton out. And those I did get I had to pay $1.20 per 100 pounds of cotton for picking it, whereas, I used to have to pay only 30 to 50 cents. We need high-priced cotton to make a profit today. However, with a reasonable price for cotton we can make good money, and when a Southerner has money he spends it. That is what makes business."—Cotton and Finance, New York.

THE HOUSE QUESTION.

Editor Star.—The house question in Wilmington is one that I am interested in and I have been struck by the efforts of our Chamber of Commerce to induce people to come here to live. What is the good of this effort, though, if there are no houses for them to live in when they arrive? Houses are undeniably scarce and those that may be rented are far from modern and way behind the houses of other cities.

Mr. Behrends' card makes it plain that as a renting proposition houses are not particularly profitable and higher rents cannot be charged because it is impossible to collect it. The people can pay no more. Mr. Behrends though, does not offer any solution of the difficulty, and we have got to have more houses if we want a greater population.

A great many people here believe that it is absolutely necessary to live within five or six blocks of Front street, and this belief is largely the result of a poor street car system. The street car company could help by extending its lines and giving a better service, not waiting for the suburbs to become populated but build its line and encourage people to go out there. It would be money in its treasury. Another plan is this: Build houses to sell and not to rent. Offer them to be paid for with the rent, give the tenants a deed, take a mortgage on it and collect your six per cent. The tenant is thus shouldered with the taxes, insurance and upkeep and your six per cent. is net If the buyer pays for the house the builder gets his principle back and if he never pays for it the builder is protected by his mortgage and he has received his six per cent. on his outlay, which is all he could hope to receive from stocks or bonds. If our moneyed people here would try this plan instead of investing in remote enterprises they would be just as well off and the city would be immensely benefitted.

I know this plan is practiced in other cities that are growing fast, because the proposition was made to me in one, and I can go there today and take my pick of almost fifty houses supplied with steam heat equipment, hardwood floors, a gas range and a coal range. I know it is practiced in another city because I have a friend who took advantage of it. Here in Wilmington to buy a house one must pay cash a third of the purchase price and it is almost impossible to secure a loan unless the agent who is the treasurer of the building and loan association gets a commission on the sale. "BOOSTER."

ROYAL
Baking Powder
Absolutely Pure

There is a remarkable interest in Home Baking and Cooking throughout the land.

This is a most encouraging indication that the battle against impure, improper food is going to be won.

The credit for the victory will belong to the women of the country.

Home cooking has the backing of science and the approval of fashion. It adds to housekeeping a pride; to our food, healthfulness.

It is acknowledged by experts, and by the women who know, that the best cooking in the world to-day is with the aid of Royal Baking Powder.

OVERFLOW CROWD PRESENT

Basketball Games at Y. M. C. A. Last Night Attracted Large Number Of Spectators—Some Splendid Games

An overflow crowd witnessed the games of basketball at the Boys' Brigade last night and the sport was well worth seeing as all the games were fast and well played from start to finish.

This was especially true of the game between Company A and Company B, who were quite evenly matched, though Company A seemed to have the best of the argument in every part of the game, passing, team work, goal-shooting and height, which proved a great factor in this game as they overtopped their younger rivals several inches in most cases. With this combination of circumstances they won without any trouble much to the surprise of all who saw the game and who were counting upon the past performances of these teams to lead them to a decision as to the relative ability of the players and their chances of winning.

The work of Company A was the best seen on the Brigade gymnasium floor and they won purely on their merits. The star of this game was Herman Gerdes, who played his position like an old-timer and succeeded in caging ten field goals which is about the record in a regular game here. The guard work of Duls and Kure was also especially good as they held eheir opponents, Register, E., and Register, H., down to four field goals, H. Register securing three of these and E. Register securing the other one. Hanson secured three field goals and Fick, center, secured three.

For Company B the work of Sholar was good, while Branch, playing at guard, secured two field goals. The work of Company A was such as to entirely outclass their rivals. This is the first game that Company B has lost this season. The final score was, Company A, 34; Company B, 20.

The game between the Y. M. C. A. Seniors and the Cardinals was another good exhibition and kept the spectators shouting at every stage of the contest This game was anybody's until the last minute as first one side would score when the other would even it up at once and neither side was ahead long enough at a time to give anybody the faintest idea which team would finally win and the factor of time became very important. The Cardinals started the scoring on a goal by Irving, when the Seniors secured two on fouls and even the score. Then Irving secured another after which Strauss scored one, making the score even again After this the Seniors were unable to score again in this half, though Huhn, of the Cardinals, secured two from the field which closed the half with the score, 8 to 4, in favor of the Cardinals. However, in the second half things changed slightly and the Seniors took a spurt and went ahead of their rivals on goals by Strauss and Starrett and foul goals by Strauss. The Cardinals secured two more field goals, were awarded one point by the referee, and scored one foul goal which made their score for the half 6 while the Seniors secured two more field goals making their score for the half 11 which gave them the game by the close margin of 15 to 14.

This game was a little rough but all the roughness was taken and given in a cheerful spirit and was productive of no harm to anybody. Chas. Davis and Starrett seemed to enjoy this style of play and the spectators did also, though it cost their respective teams several points and was expensive to both teams. In this game there were no especially brilliant plays but both teams played fair ball; not what either is capable of doing, though it proved interesting and exciting at various stages.

The first half of the game between the Eagles and the Y. M. C. A. Juniors was a repetition of the game put up last week by the Eagles against Company B and was especially good, the score at the end of the first half being 8 to 7 in favor of the Juniors. This success greatly encouraged the Eagles who went into the second half with a determination to do or die but the Juniors had struck their stride by this time and they too went into the game with the intention of putting the game on ice as fast as possible and the manner in which they proceeded to do so was almost shameful, for in this half Farrar secured five field goals, Shephard one, Johnson two and K. Davis two, besides securing two foul goals, which gave them a total of 22 points for the half, while the best that the Eagles could do was to secure three foul goals. They were hopelessly outclassed from the start to the finish of this half. However, they were game and played until the last whistle with a doggedness that was creditable in a losing team. The final score was Juniors 30, Eagles 10. Throughout this game Farrar was the bright shining star for the Juniors, though K. Davis and Johnson, guards, did splendid work, not having a single field goal against them; the only one secured being scored by Gerdes, who was playing guard for the Eagles. The work of Gerdes and Burnett, guards, for the Eagles, deserves especial mention as they allowed only one field goal which was thrown over Gerdes by Shephard and this was evened up by Gerdes who also threw one, while Mr. Davis did not score a single point for his team against Burnett. About 150 people witnessed the games.

In the Junior League two games were played during the afternoon when Register met and defeated Palmgren after 25 minutes of hard playing by a score of 9 to 2. Register starred in this game by securing five field goals. Fergus defeated Montgomery by the close score of 11 to 8. This proved to be an exceptionally good game which called forth many cheers from the spectators, consisting of boys. Bell starred in this game for Fergus by throwing three field goals and three foul goals, making 9 of the 11 points for his team. The good guard work of Davis and Gafford was largely responsible for the defeat of Montgomery while the hard, consistent work of Mac Griffith deserves especial mention.

LECTURE LAST NIGHT

Dr. Thos. E. Green Spoke on "The Burden of the Nation"

Dr. Thos. E. Green appeared before a large audience at the Memorial Hall of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church last night as the second attraction of the Brotherhood Lyceum Course. The subject of his lecture was "The Burden of the Nation." He gave as a result of his 14 months' travel among the great nations of the earth an estimate of the United States and the foremost nations of our time. He contrasted the other nations with their standing armies and navies and the great burden of necessary taxation of the support of these and then contrasted the few ships and small army of our country with a very enormous taxation for their support and for the pensions that come as the result of war. He then made a final plea that our nation should be the great nation to stand for peace and disarmament. He also held that the other nations so burdened would be glad to have such a leadership as our nation. Dr. Green is a good speaker, but the lecture itself was disappointing to a large number of the audience.

THE RECORDER'S COURT.

Only Three Cases Were Tried at Yesterday Morning's Sitting.

Only three cases claimed the attention of the Recorder yesterday morning and Luke Smith, colored, was the defendant in two of these. Smith was charged with violating the tax ordinance, in which he was found not guilty, and resisting arrest, for which he was assessed $25 and costs. Had he not resisted when the officer went to arrest him for violating the tax ordinance he would have gotten off without having to pay anything. John Billups, colored, charged with non-support, agreed to provide for his better half hereafter, in fact, they had already adjusted matters between them, and the Recorder suspended judgment upon payment of the costs. The case came up from Justice Harriss' court. The case against Mr. J. M. Woolard, charged with larceny of two sills, was continued until next Tuesday.

PLANS FOR EXTENSION.

Present Municipal Sewerage System Will Probably Soon be Enlarged.

Plans for the extension of the existing sewerage system, which was recently acquired by the city, have been prepared by Mr. F. F. Pillet, city engineer, and will be submitted to the City Council some time next week. The plans call for the sewering of the northern, eastern and southern sections of the city and it is said that the district embraced includes practically every surface closet in use in the city. The paramount idea in drawing the plans was to place the sewer pipes so as to afford connection with the system by all the houses now using surface closets.

It is stated that the plans do not provide for an intercepting sewer. The disposal of sewage in Burnt Mill creek, in the northeast section of the city, will be discontinued, according to the plans, and the disposal plant, near the cemetery, will not be needed. The sewage from the eastern section would be disposed of through the Brooklyn section. It will require about 12 months to complete the extensions as planned. The Council will very probably call for bids in a short time. The plans have the approval of Dr. Chas. T. Nesbitt, city superintendent of health.

LOW RATES TO CHARLESTON

Annual Fair and Battleship Week in South Carolina Metropolis

The Atlantic Coast Line announces very low round trip rates to Charleston, S. C., and return on account of the annual fair and battleship week in that city, Nov. 18-23, inclusive. The fare is only $6.60 for the return trip and very liberal limits are allowed on tickets. For particulars see advertisement elsewhere in today's paper.

May Connect With System.

If there are any business houses and private homes that desire the privilege they will be allowed by the Department of Public Safety to make connections with the police call and telegraph system, which is now being installed. The person or firm securing the service will, of course, have to pay the expense of making the connection. There will be no charge for maintenance. A number of citizens will probably avail themselves of the privilege of this service. In some cities that have the police call system the business houses pay a rental of $5 or $10 a year to have a box in their place. The service is offered free here. One can get police headquarters by the call system much quicker than by the telephone, as the connection is direct, and the best part of it is that you can call an officer without anybody who happened to be in your place knowing anything about the call.

Give Up the Game.

After several weeks of life on Magistrates' Row, Justice J. C. King has decided to give up his office and return to his former duties. It is not because he did not have a-plenty to do that Magistrate King decided to retire, for he was one of the busiest magistrates who ever did business on Magistrates' Row. When asked his reason for quitting he simply smiled and said he was tired of the game. He will be succeeded by Mr. W. A. McGowan, another very popular magistrate of the city, who will occupy his office at No. 204 Princess street. The change was effective yesterday and Justice McGowan has already issued a large number of papers from his new office.

Property Offered for Sale.

Councilman B. C. Moore has advertised for sale the property at the southwest corner of Fourth and Princess streets, in accordance with instructions given him at a recent meeting of the City Council. Bids will be opened at 10 o'clock on November 27th. The lot has a frontage on Princess street of about 73 feet and 165 feet on Fourth street. The proceeds from the property will be applied toward an incinerator.

Mayor Goes to Harnett.

Mayor Joseph D. Smith and son, Mr. Franklin Smith, and brother, Wm. L. Smith, Esq., and Mr. Robt. L. Cantwell will leave this morning for Swann's Station, Harnett county, where they will spend a few days on business. Mayor Smith owns a plantation near Swann's Station and he is never so happy as when he is on his place in Harnett. The party will return Tuesday. Mayor Pro Tem M. G. Tiencken will be the official head of the city in the absence of Mayor Smith.

Big Old Hoss Auction Sale

The Southern Express Co.'s old hoss sale, consisting of nearly 500 undelivered packages, will be conducted at the Wilmington Auction and Storage Co.'s store, 111 Chesnut street, Saturday, November 16th, beginning at 10 o'clock A. M. An expert auctioneer will conduct the sale. People from the surrounding country will do well to attend. Several valuable packages in the lot. (Advertisement.) 2t.

STILL ON DIAMOND CASE

Satisfactory Progress Yesterday in the Action of United States Government Against the Atlantic Coast Line.

Satisfactory progress was made in United States Circuit Court yesterday in the trial of the case of the United States government against the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Company for the recovery of the value of some diamonds alleged to have been lost in a wreck near Lucama eight years ago. It is claimed that the diamonds were in a mail pouch and en route from Paris, France, to Cuba. The diamonds, or a great many of them, were picked up by persons searching the debris for the gems, according to the contention of the government. The value of the diamonds was slightly more than $9,000.

Yesterday was largely consumed in the reading of depositions. Some were taken in this country and others in France and Cuba. The government is attempting to show by these depositions that the diamonds were mailed in Paris and expects to trace them to Lucama. The deposition of Louis Waxmouth, engineer of No. 35, which was the train wrecked, was the first read yesterday. He now lives in Washington and is in the employ of the government. He said that the crew of No. 8, the freight train, the cars of which the passenger train collided, overlooked the approach of No. 35. This, he said, was acknowledged by the conductor of the freight train. The passenger train was going at the rate of 50 or 60 miles an hour when the collision occurred. The engineer was jammed against the boiler-head and his engine was turned completely around.

The deposition of Mr. W. J. Beal, the chief mail clerk on No. 35, was next read. He came into court about the time his deposition was being read and went upon the witness stand. He told of the wreck and of the burning of the mail car. All the registered mail, he said, was saved except two packages, a loose package and a pouch from New York to Santiago, Cuba. He said that the reason the registered mail came to be saved was that a negro porter was sending his wife $20 by registered mail and thought of his money as the car was burning. The porter dashed into the car for his money. Several others followed him. The result was that nearly all the mail was saved. It was not until more than a month later that the witness heard of the loss of the diamonds. He said that he turned in his report and the way-bill of the registered mail lost to his chief, Clarence G. Goodlow.

Clarence G. Goodlow, chief postal clerk of the Third Division, in his deposition stated that the way-bill accompanying the registered mail, after the wreck, had been handed to him by Clerk Beale and placed in the regular channels. He said that he had every reason to suppose that it was in Cuba now. A. C. Plank, a postal clerk on the train at the time of the wreck, corroborated Mr. Beale.

The government desired at this juncture to introduce the evidence of a number of witnesses from around Lucama to testify as to the finding of diamonds in the debris, following the wreck and burning of the mail car so the witnesses could return to their homes last night. The defense objected on the ground that the evidence would not be competent at that stage of the trial. The objection was sustained.

In a deposition the head of the Paris firm sending the diamonds to Cuba stated that the shipment consisted of 20 stones, four stones to the envelope and five envelopes to the package, sealed with red sealing wax. The diamonds, he said, would be worth about 25 per cent. more now than at that time. He was notified by the postoffice department that the package was lost and the insurance companies paid him $7,000 for the loss, this being about $200 more than the gems were worth. It was stated in the deposition that the value of the diamonds was not asked by the postal authorities.

A large number of other depositions, taken in this country and in France, were read. It is expected that the reading of the depositions will be finished some time this morning.

Mr. Tipple, of Tipple & Blitt, attorneys of New York, arrived yesterday morning to look after private interests in the case.

BANK OF LITTLE RIVER.

Most Successful Year Just Closed—Mr. R. R. Stone President.

Mr. R. R. Stone has returned from Little River, S. C., where he attended the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Bank of Little River, S. C., of which he is president. The meeting was well attended and Mr. Stone reports a most prosperous year, this being the second annual meeting since the organization of the institution. The bank has a capital stock of $10,000, a surplus of $1,000 and undivided profits of $1,700. It has paid 8 per cent. dividend to stockholders since it was organized and has paid 5 per cent. on time deposits. Besides this the bank has afforded the people of that enterprising business community banking facilities second to none anywhere and it has proved a great blessing to the industrial awakening of that entire section. Officers were re-elected as follows:

ABDUCTION IS CHARGED.

William Smith, Young White Man, Arrested for Serious Offense.

William Smith, a young white man about 21 years old, was arrested yesterday morning by Hall Officer J. S. Lane on a warrant charging him with abduction. In default of bond he was committed to the city prison to await hearing before the Recorder this morning.

The warrant was sworn out by Mrs. Bolinder Roderick, who lives at No. 605 South 11th street, and she alleges that Smith abducted her 13-year-old daughter, Louisa Williams, Mrs. Roderick having been twice married.

Mrs. Roderick told the police that a few days ago Smith went to her home and took the girl away with him. Missing the girl a few minutes later she followed and overtook them. She claims that Smith shook his fists in her face and for this she had another warrant issued charging disorderly conduct and assault and battery. She took the girl back home with her. She claims that later in the night Smith slipped back there and got the girl away. It is said that the girl spent the night at the home of a friend of the family where she formerly lived. She returned home the next day.

The boy and girl were met on Wooster street, between Ninth and Tenth, by a police officer, who questioned them. Smith told the officer that he was carrying the girl away and place her under better influences.

The police were already at work on the case and Thursday practically completed arrangements to have the girl sent to some place where she will be properly reared. The arrest of Smith on the abduction charge has caused a temporary halt in their plans.

Lecture Created Interest

The Star is asked to publish the following: "The lecture relative to the downfall of the Turkish Empire, delivered at the Sixth Street Advent church last Sunday night has created considerable interest among the people. Many have presented themselves for baptism. There were 10 persons that offered themselves Thursday night as candidates for the ordinance. Services may continue next week. Miss Annie Thomas charmingly entertained a number of her friends at a linen shower at the home of her mother, No. 506 Church street, Thursday evening in compliment to Miss Beulah Beery, whose marriage to Mr. A. Gordon Brittain will take place next Wednesday. There were about 15 young ladies present and all spent a most delightful evening. A number of games were played and there were musical selections and refreshments. There was suspended from the ceiling in one of the rooms a large Japanese umbrella, in which had ben placed many beautiful pieces of linen. At the proper time the bride was invited into this room and when directly under the umbrella a cord was pulled and the contents were showered upon her. The evening proved very enjoyable for all so fortunate as to be present.

Rocky Point, N. C., Nov. 15.—Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Armstrong entertained Thursday evening from 8 to 12 o'clock in compliment to Mrs. Armstrong's sisters, Miss Mary E. Pitt and Mrs. H. W. Stevens, both of Wilmington. One of the features of the evening was an advertising contest. The first prize, a box of linen writing paper, was won by Miss Mary E. Pitt and Mr. J. J. Barden, Jr., of Burgaw. The booby prize was awarded to Mrs. Lucye Pearsall and Mr. Fred Malpass. The prize was very unique and created much amusement.

At the close of this contest the 17 couples in attendance repaired to the dining room, where refreshments were served. The room was tastefully decorated in yellow and green.

Returning from the dining room the guests entered another contest, in which the first prize was won by Miss Martha Sidbury, of Ashton, and Mr. G. T. Johnson, of Wilmington. The booby was awarded to Miss Iowia Durham and Mr. George Meeks.

Miss Hucks delightfully entertained the guests with a number of amusing recitations. The parlors were beautifully decorated in pink and green. Just prior to departing each guest was given his "Fortune in a nut-shell," which furnished much amusement when each fortune was read to the party.

SOME SIDELIGHTS OF U. D. C. IN WASHINGTON

The following is from the Washington Herald: "When Mrs. Marion Butler, president of the District of Columbia U. D. C., finished her remarks, welcoming the National convention of the U. D. C. Tuesday evening to the National Capital, Mrs. Marshall Williams, of Faison, N. C., president of the North Carolina Division of the U. D. C., arose from her seat in the audience and went to the platform with a magnificent bouquet of American Beauty roses which she presented to Mrs. Butler on behalf of the North Carolina delegates to the convention. Mrs. Williams' remarks were as follows: 'The division of North Carolina is proud of the privilege of presenting this token of admiration to a native daughter who has so ably represented the Daughters of the District of Columbia as their president. North Carolina furnished one-fifth of the soldiers of the entire Confederate army. Therefore, our State is doubly proud when the U. D. C. is entertained for the first time in this city, that they should be so graciously welcomed by a daughter of the Old North State.' Mrs. Butler, in response, said: 'I am a Tar Heel and love my State with all my heart, and wish I could tell you how much I appreciate these lovely flowers, the gift of the Daughters from 'down home,' the Old North State.''

"Mrs. Marion Butler entertained at dinner last night at her home in R street, in compliment to the National officers of the U. D. C. Her guests were Mrs. Frank G. Odenheimer, first vice president; Mrs. Drury Conway Ludlow, second vice president; Mrs. Roy Weeks McKinney, recording secretary general; Mrs. Katy Childress Schnabel, corresponding secretary general; Mrs. C. B. Tate, treasurer general; Miss Mildred Rutherford, historian general; Mrs. Frank Anthony Walke, custodian of flags former president general, Mrs. Cornelia Branch Stone; Mrs. Matthew T. Scott, president general of the D. A. R.; Mrs. Marshall McD. Williams, of Faison, N. C., president of the North Carolina Division, and Mrs. William Jennings Bryan."

IDENTIFIED BY HACKMAN

Negro Supposed to Have Figured In Hold-up Is Arrested

Identified by Thos. Brown, the colored hackman who was held-up near Bellevue cemetery last Sunday night, Ernest Rhodes, colored, was arrested at the union station at 11:30 o'clock last night by Patrolman J. A. Tew and taken to police headquarters where charges of assault with deadly weapon and attempted highway robbery were preferred.

Brown picked up two "fares" at Sixth and Swan streets late Sunday night, one white man and one negro, who stated that they wanted to go to East Wilmington. The hackman drove out Market street to a point near the Federal cemetery, when his passengers demanded that he go across to the Princess street road, which he did. When they reached a bridge across the road, near Bellevue cemetery, they had the hack stopped. The white man offered the hackman a $5 bill from which to take his fare. The negro could not change the money. The negro passenger struck the hackman and attempted to rob him. The hackman had a pistol under the front seat of his hack and he lost no time in getting it out. He fired at the white man and negro as they were disappearing.

When Brown saw Rhodes at the union station last night he recognized him as the negro passenger. He told Patrolman Tew, who placed the negro under arrest. The hackman says that he is certain the negro arrested is the right one. He says that he will be able to identify the white man if he ever sees him again.

GAME AT GREENSBORO

Virginians and Tar Heels Arrive For Big Game Today

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Greensboro, Nov. 15.—The squad of the Washington and Lee University, 22 strong, came in from Virginia tonight and a few minutes later the Carolina squad arrived from Chapel Hill. Both elevens are quartered at the Guilford and coaches from each camp declare that their men are in the pink of condition for tomorrow's struggle—one which will give Carolina a fighting chance to gain championship honors and one which should the State team lose, will blight all hope of championship possibilities this year. Washington and Lee has defeated V. P. I., University of Virginia and other colleges and played Georgetown to the best score of any Southern eleven. To win tomorrow and then defeat Virginia on Thanksgiving would give Carolina a strong claim at the championship.

The game is the first big college football struggle played here in several years and the people generally are looking forward to the event with great interest. The day will be enlivened by the presence of 300 Chapel Hill boys, coming on a special at noon, and 600 young women from the Normal and G. F. colleges, tickets to this number having been sold in the advance half-rate college sales.

The Carolina management entered a protest against Rafferty and Bone, the strong Washington and Lee lineman and half back, but word from the Virginia University today is that the protest will be denied. It is admitted that both Rafferty and Bone played professional baseball in the Appalachian Association last Summer, but W. and L. holds that to have done such is not an infraction of the regulations of that college. Carolina, in demanding that these men be left off, intimated that athletic relations between the two colleges would be severed after this year unless the protest was sustained.

EGGS MAKE NEW FALL RECORD

Fancy Brands High, But Storage Stock 24 Cents a Dozen

(Special to Baltimore Sun.)

New York, Nov. 14.—Fancy brands of fresh eggs made a new Fall record today, when they sold for 72 cents a dozen. They will go still higher before the month is over, dealers say.

As against 60 cents a dozen wholesale for nearby fresh eggs, Western fresh eggs are selling here wholesale at 38 to 41 cents a dozen, and first-class storage egges are literally going begging at 24 cents a dozen.

The new law requiring retail as well as wholesale dealers to label storage eggs has aroused a prejudice against them in the minds of the women, who imagine that a storage egg is inferior and stale because it is marked "storage."

Unless customers change their minds, the egg speculators of New York stand to lose from $500,000 to $1,500,000 in prospective profits between now and next Spring on storage eggs.

LIL' ARTHUR RELEASED.

Negro Pugilist Finds Some One to Put Up Bail.

Chicago, Nov. 15.—Jack Johnson, the negro pugilist, accused of violation of the Mann white slave act, was today released from custody in bonds of $30,000.

The sureties accepted were the pugilist's mother, Tiny Johnson, and Mathew S. Baldwin, real estate dealer. Johnson was taken to the county jail last Friday, and since has made many efforts to regain his liberty.

..Theatrical..

The success of two continents, "Baby Mine", Margaret Mayo's merry play, which comes to the Academy today, matinee and night, under the direction of William A. Brady, Ltd., just finished an engagement of eight weeks at the Majestic Theatre, Boston. "Baby Mine" also ran for one solid year at Daly's Theatre, New York, where it played to the largest gross receipts ever known in the history of the American stage, and not content with that, the comedy is now breaking all records at the Criterion Theatre, London, where it has already reached its second year. It will shortly be produced in Paris, Berlin, Vienna, St. Petersburg, Australia, South America and Japan. It is as certain as mundane affairs can be that "Baby Mine" is the biggest comedy success ever known. It is clear, clean, healthy fun from beginning to end, and it is not only brightly written, but brilliantly acted. "Baby Mine" is said to keep the audience in convulsions of mirth, and to be the most wildly laughable comedy that ever set a house in an uproar.

Seats for both performances are now on sale at Plummer's. The matinee prices are decidedly low, the downstairs being held only at 75 cents, with the balcony 50 cents, but a child will be admitted to any part of the theatre for 25 cents.

"The Bohemian Girl."

The coming of the Aborns mammoth spectacular production of "The Bohemian Girl" (in English) to the Academy next Wednesday for matinee and night should prove among the most important of the season's offerings. Balfe's masterpiece will be presented in a lavish stage environment that is said to rival any of the many productions given to this opera in its seventy years of popularity. The magnificence of the Aborn version combined with the wealth of detail never before attempted have caused many to wonder how it was ever possible to have given a completely satisfying performance of this grand old opera without the introduction of at least some of the ideas that have now been incorporated. To the opera has been given a scenic mounting comprised of six massive and magnificent scenes, and in this particular widely different from the makeshift scenery that has usually been employed by traveling companies presenting Balfe's work. Among the features heretofore not known to this opera are a cavalcade of horses that are shown in a wild race up the mountains in pursuit of the kidnapping Gypsy chief, an encampment of Gypsies who are seen making and breaking camp, with its genuine gypsies, dogs, geese, pigs, chickens, etc., then there is the Fair or Kermess, where are introduced the most remarkable troupe of whirlwind acrobats ever brought to this country. These and a multitude of other novelties, all fitting with entire consistency where employe combine to make the Aborn version of "The Bohemian Girl" an offering of exceptional importance. The presenting company, one of importance and unusual size, includes a double cast of principals, big chorus and a special orchestra.

The special orchestra is positively guaranteed by the Academy of Music management. Seats for both performances will go on sale at Plummer's Monday morning.

The Grand Theatre

The chilly atmosphere of the outside possesses no terrors for patrons of the pretty Grand Theatre and whatever the weather man may dispense in the way of frigid weather today, visitors to the Grand will be delighted with the warm, comfortable, perfectly ventilated atmosphere of the auditorium.

The offering for today will be a notable one. On account of the great hit Mr. Chick made Wednesday with "I Want My Man," he has decided to sing another of the Feist song successes and this one will be "When I Get You Alone Tonight." The movevs as usual will be bright and snappy and one of the features will be an Edison portrayal of "The Widow's Second Marriage." There is a wily deacon in this bucolic story and the widow is very charming. Comedy reigns supreme and the final triumph of another suitor lends a zest to the portrayal that will be heartily enjoyed by all.

Then there is a very strong Selig for today. It is "The Lost Inheritance," and it tells "How a Bogus Duke Interferred Between Father and Son." How the bogus duke turns out to be a noted London crook makes the story intensely interesting and fascinating from start to finish.

Saturday at the Bijou.

Four more big films at the popular Bijou today, and they are of such great type and freshest creation that one of the most glorious week-ends in the history of this favorite amusement palace may well be expected. The Bijou always endeavors to make Saturday a red letter day, and has never chalked up a failure yet. Today will not be an exception, and, as usual, the theatre will, of course, be packed. Solid comfort, as well as the big show will be lavishly served, and the same old price of admission will remain—5 cents, afternoon or night.

A great dramatic photoplay is on today in "Her Convict Brother." It is a film that breathes thrills and is most fascinating of theme, dealing mainly with the dark grey prison, and a daring escape from the penitentiary.

"The New Member of the Life Saving Station," is another stirring dramatic, and it also is decidedly fascinating, as the story deals with the mighty deep and a brave life saving crew. A beautiful love story, something entirely different from anything seen heretofore, is wrapped up in the thrilling film.

In the comedy line is one of the very brightest and most unique of all films, "Linked Together." It is breezy and happy and most wholesome. It tells of a lover's quarrel and the novel way children forced them to make up.

A great educational film is also on today, but it is not a dry subject by any means. It is entitled, "Salt Lake City, Utah, and Its Boundaries," and gives interesting views of the land of the Mormon. It is a superb film that will both entertain and teach.

Today's week-end bill at the Bijou should not be missed. It is truly a big and wonderful offering.

LOCAL DOTS.

—Services will be held tomorrow at Immanuel Presbyterian church at the usual hours, 11 A. M. and 7:30 P. M. Rev. J. S. Crowley, the pastor, expects to preach at 11 o'clock Sunday morning at Phoenix Presbyterian church.

—Many friends in Wilmington of Mr. E. Samuel Barnard will be interested to learn that he is now manager of Swift & Co.'s branch office at Spartanburg, S. C. Mr. Barnard lived here for several months, traveling this territory for the local house of Swift & Co.

—Dr. J. H. Dreher was the high man at the regular weekly shoot yesterday afternoon of the Wilmington Gun Club. He broke 94 clay pigeons out of a possible 100. The club will hold practice shoots every few weeks in preparation for the shoot at Pinehurst the latter part of January.

—Post cards have been mailed to Pythians throughout this section calling their attention to the Pythian Rally to be held next Thursday night in this city. Local Pythians will turn out in great numbers and it is believed that there will be a number of visiting Pythians in attendance.

—A deed of trust was filed for record yesterday from the A. D. Rich Company to the Oxford Savings Bank and Trust Co., trustee, of Oxford, to secure a $20,000 bond issue to be made by the A. D. Rich Company in order to have more money to put in its large and rapidly growing furniture business in this city. The bank holds in trust all the property of the furniture company as surety for the bonds.

—Furniture and household effects of J. E. Smith have been attached under proceedings started in Justice Harriss' court by Mr. George Burnett, the grocer. It is alleged that Mr. Smith owes the plaintiff $25 for groceries and that he had intended moving his household effects to Georgia, where he expects to live in the future. Unless the case is adjusted the property will be sold according to law.

LYNCHBURG, VA., SELECTED.

Baptist General Association Will Meet There Next.

Petersburg, Va., Nov. 15.—The Virginia Baptist General Association in 89th annual session here this afternoon selected Lynchburg, Va., as the next meeting place. Rev. E. W. Winfrey, of Culpepper, Va., was chosen preacher with Rev. Dr. George B. Taylor of Hollins, alternate. The meeting will be held November 20th, 1913. Clifton Forge, Va., was recommended as the next meeting place by the committee, but a minority report submitted by Rev. A. L. Ayers, of Lynchburg, was adopted naming Lynchburg after a spirited contest in which Lynchburg received a majority of one, out of nearly 500 votes of the association.

WOMEN SHOULD BE PROTECTED

Against So Many Surgical Operations. How Mrs. Bethune and Mrs. Moore Escaped.

Sikeston, Mo.—"For seven years I suffered everything. I was in bed for four or five days at a time every month, and so weak I could hardly walk. I cramped and had backache and headache, and was so nervous and weak that I dreaded to see anyone or have anyone move in the room. The doctors gave me medicine to ease me at those times, and said that I ought to have an operation. I would not listen to that, and when a friend of my husband told him about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and what it had done for his wife, I was willing to take it. Now I look the picture of health and feel like it, too. I can do my own housework, hoe my garden, and milk a cow. I can entertain company and enjoy them. I can visit when I choose, and walk as far as any ordinary woman, any day in the month. I wish I could talk to every suffering woman and girl."—Mrs. DEMA BETHUNE, Sikeston, Mo.

Murrayville, Ill.—"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for a very bad case of female trouble and it made me a well woman. My health was all broken down, the doctors said I must have an operation, and I was ready to go to the hospital, but dreaded it so that I began taking your Compound. I got along so well that I gave up the doctors and was saved from the operation."—Mrs. CHARLES MOORE, R. R. No. 3, Murrayville, Ill.

COTTON REMAINS UNSETTLED

Market Was Again Very Active With Prices Showing Downward Tendency Till Near Close When A Rally Set In

New York, Nov. 15.—The cotton market was again extremely active and unsettled, with prices showing a generally downward tendency until renewed bull support caused a partial rally in the late trading. The close was very steady, but last prices still showed a net loss of 8 to 14 points. The opening was barely steady at a decline and active months sold 14 to 16 points below the closing figures of yesterday as a result of the overnight selling orders, liquidation, and bear pressure inspired by weak cables, continued reports of full ginning returns and further claims of a less active spot demand. Offerings were heavy, but were well taken at the decline and after the publication of a census report showing a very active consumption by domestic mills, the market rallied 8 or 9 points from the lowest. Outside demand failed to broaden, however, and prices soon weakened again under continued liquidation. At first the decline was gradual and the market showed considerable resistance, but as prices worked downward, the selling for long account became more active, while local bears gained confidence, owing to the big into-sight figures with the active months showing a net loss of about 25 to 27 points in the late trading. It was reported that large Southern and uptown long lines wede liquidating on this decline and as soon as the selling became a shade less active, several leading brokers entered the ring with big buying orders and taking cotton in blocks of 5,000 bales, rallied prices rapidly in the last 10 or 15 minutes, with final quotations showing a recovery of 9 to 10 points.

Spot, easy. Middling uplands, 11.90; do. gulf, 12.15; sales, 100 bales.

Futures closed very steady.

THE WEEKLY COTTON REVIEW

Prices Have Declined Owing to Heavy Liquidation, Large Receipts and Falling Off of Spot Demand at the South.

New York, Nov. 15.—Cotton has declined owing to heavy liquidation at home and abroad, large receipts and finally something more important than anything else, persistent reports of a falling off in the demand for spot cotton at the South. The recent big rise in cotton was mainly based on the active call for the actual cotton at Southern ports, largely for Europe, but to some extent for American spinners. This business was done, it was generally conceded, at an unusually high basis, especially for good white cotton, which most reports agree was none to easy to buy. It is a fact, too, that exports have been catching up. Manchester has been doing a good business at firm prices. German mills are sold ahead for six months. The mills of other countries of continental Europe are at least fairly well engaged ahead. In this country an excellent business in cotton goods has been done. The print cloth sales of Fall River last week were of the largest for a long period. Prices of goods have either advanced or else have remained firm, or else in some cases discounts have been reduced, something in itself tantamount to a rise in prices. What is more, it is a fact not generally known that Japanese mills are caught napping. It is not believed that the New England mills are any too well supplied with the raw material either. At the same time they are making money as they have not made money for years past. The crop accounts from Egypt are less favorable. Whereas at one time the crop of that country was estimated at 8,000,000 cantars, it is now estimated at 7,500,000 cantars. One crop estimate the other day was as low as 13,900,000. Yesterday the foregoing factors have had less influence than the decreased demand for spot coton, the large receipts at the ports and interior towns, the disturbed political situation in Europe, the fear at one time of the downfall of the liberal ministry in England, the fear of serious complications, growing out of the settlement for readjustment of political conditions in Southeastern Europe raised by the Balkan war, heavy liquidation in New York and Liverpool, partly on stop orders, the overturning of pyramids here, the frightened selling by the 11th-hour bulls and finally some tendency to increase crop estimates. Neill, of London, who was supposed recently to favor an estimate of 13,900,000 bales now, it appears, inclines to adopt as his figures on the crop 14,500,000 bales. Such things have had a chilling effect on bullish sentiment here. Some of the bulls themselves have taken the ground that there might be a temporary decline, even though they look for an ultimate advance on the big consumption and a crop which they consider is at least 2,000,000 bales smaller than the last one, while the consumption, they believe, will fully equal that of last season, when it was approximately 14,500,000 bales. A tendency to increase crop estimates and a falling off in the spot demand at home and abroad of late—Liverpool spot sales have dropped to 4,000 bales—have had a depressing effect. The weekly statistics were considered bearish.

DUN'S TRADE REVIEW

Business Continues to Expand—Demand for Products Increases

New York, Nov. 15.—R. G. Dun & Company's weekly trade review tomorrow will say:

Business continues to expand, unchecked by the Balkan war with its grave European complications. The domestic and foreign demand for Iron and Steel products is even larger than before, breaking all records. The railroads are making every effort to move promptly the tremendous traffic of the country and at the same time are making due preparation for the requirements of the future. There are also signs of preparation for the opening of the canal. Evidence of expansion in iron and steel was furnished by the increase of over a million tons in the unfilled orders of leading interests last month. This gain may be attributed in part to the steady development of new export business.

Heavy orders for pig iron have been placed and quotations are firm, with only moderate tonnages available for spot delivery.

Greater strength has devolped in dry goods, manufacturers of textiles being sold ahead. Prints are selling more freely and re-orders on shirtings and Spring wash fabrics are more general. Far Eastern export trade has been confined this week to sales of standard drills to India, the miscellaneous foreign markets being quiet. In woolens stocks appear to have been cleaned up better than usual.

Cotton yarns are higher and very steady, while worsted yarns are firm.

Conditions in footwear are becoming steadily more satisfactory.

All departments of shoe leathers are in growing demand.

LITTLE CHANGES IN STOCKS

Operations Were Curtailed and Prices Of the Leading Issues Varied Little—Selling Movement At the Close

New York, Nov. 15.—Operations in stocks were curtailed today and during most of the trading prices of the leading issues changed but little. A brisk selling movement imparted some life to the market in the last hour and quotations were scaled down, though losses were not severe. Speculative interest seemed at low ebb.

In the early dealings specialties were more than ordinarily prominent, with substantial gains in some of the tobacco issues, fertilizers, equipments and American Beet Sugar. Preferred shares of the latter were under pressure and later there was some selling in concessions of International Paper issues, Union Bag and Paper, common and preferred and several of the minor railways. The decline in Bag and Paper issues was most precipitate, the common falling three points and the preferred seven. Call money ranged between 5 1-2 to 6 per cent; with moderate demand. Interior banks were again moderate purchasers of business paper.

Prices of Americans in London were generally higher. The local market at no time made more than slight response to the higher general average of our stocks abroad. Bonds were irregular. Totaf sales, par value $1,550,000. United States bonds unchanged on call. Total sales stocks today 288,800 shares.

COTTON MOVEMENT.

Figures for Present Years Contrasted With Other Years.

New Orleans, Nov. 15.—Secretary Hester's weekly New Orleans cotton exchange statement issued today shows for the 15 days of November an increase in totals over last year of 92,000, an increase over the same period year before last of 230,000. For the 76 days of the season that have elapsed the aggregate is ahead of the 76 days of last year 28,000 and ahead of the same days year before last 923,000. The amount brought into sight during the past week has been 717,865 bales, against 629,102 for the seven days ending this date last year, and for the 15 days of November it has been 1,463,044 against 1,371,053 last year.

The movement since September 1st shows receipts at all United States ports of 4,438,094 against 4,317,932 last year; overland across the Mississippi, Ohio and Potomac rivers to Northern mills and Canada 198,221 against 215,627 last year; interior stocks in excess of those held at the close of the commercial year 488,546 against 641,145 last year; Southern mills' takings 664,000 against 586,147 last year.

The total movement for the 76 days of the season from September 1st to date is 5,788,861 against 5,760,851 last year. Foreign exports for the week have been 373,887 against 416,636 last year, making the total thus far for the season 3,073,404 against 3,075,615 last year, a decrease of 2,211. The total takings of American mills, North South and Canada thus far for the season have been 1,259,333 against 1,232,439 last year. Stocks at the seaboard and the 29 leading Southern interior centers have increased during the week 147,602 bales against an increase during the corresponding period last season of 53,969 and are now 81,066 larger than at this date in 1910. Including stocks left over at ports and interior towns from the last crop and the number of bales brought into sight thus far from the new crop the supply to date is 6,153,754 against 6,047,825 for the same period last year.

TELLS GRAPHIC STORY.

Alvin Zollinger Was Murdered For Forcing Attention Upon Typist.

Columbus, O., Nov. 15.—The story of how Alvin E. Zollinger, an advertising solicitor, who was shot and killed in a city park here last May forced his attention upon Miss Cecelia Farley, a stenographer in a State office, who is on trial for first degree murder for shooting him, although he was a married man with a family, was graphically told at the trial today by Mrs. Alfred A. Arnold, daughter of L. A. Loos, at whose home Miss Farley lived for the two years preceeding the tragedy. Mrs. Arnold testified for the defense, the prosecution having rested its case shortly after noon today. She said that Zollinger called Miss Farley over the telephone several times a day and talked with her many minutes. When she would leave the telephone the witness said Miss Farley often would be in a state of nervous exhaustion.

The witness told of meeting Zollinger at the Columbus union station one day and asking him to please stop bothering Miss Farley. Zollinger was alleged to have told her:

"If Cecelia does not do as I want her to, it will end in a tragedy for the three of us."

The defense entered this testimony to show that Zollinger was objecting to the attentions paid Miss Farley by Jerome Quigley, the man whom she was to marry and that he had threatened violence.

Zollinger, the witness said, told her that his wife "didn't count." Mrs. Arnold told of how Zollinger watched the house where Miss Farley was living and of how he followed her on the street continually dogging her.

Several witnesses were introduced by the defense to testify to the good character of the defendant.

Miss Farley will be the last witness of the defense and probably will go on the stand next Tuesday, according to statements of her attorneys today. When the trial was concluded for the day a recess was taken until Monday morning.

Young Men Walking for Purse Were at Sanford, N. C.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Sanford, N. C., Nov. 15.—Two young men giving their names as William Henderson and H. W. Hoover, appeared on our streets this week selling pictures. They say that they are walking from New York to San Francisco and back for a purse. They sell photographs of themselves to pay expenses. They left New York October 14th, 1912, and are due to return by November 1st, 1913. They are interesting talkers and claim to have had some exciting experiences since they left New York City. Three negroes attempted to rob them near Butterworth, Va., and shot young Henderson in the arm, which he carries in a sling. They also stated that they were shot at near Moncure this week, but escaped injury. They left here en route for Columbia, S. C.

QUAIL SHOOTING.

Season Opens in Piedmont Counties. Northern Hunters Come.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Greensboro, N. C., Nov. 15.—In Guilford, Davidson, Rockingham, Stokes, and all surrounding counties, with the exception of Forsyth, the open season for quail hunting began today and hundreds of gunmen left early for the fields. Forsyth opens November 20th and closes January 1st, except in two townships. In this county several licenses to non-resident hunters were sold yesterday, though the great body of Northern sportsmen will not begin to arrive until the latter part of the month. The various hunting lodges in this and surrounding counties are being put in tip top shape for the reception of their masters and invited guests, the Gould, Brokaw, MacKey, Morgan, Cobb and other preserves of the millionaire colony having been increased and vastly improved during the off season.

Old timers say there are more birds in this section this year than in their memory, three and four large coveys being found in fields of this year where only one and two could be flushed in past years. It is said the same abundancy exists in adjoining counties. The quail season always brings much ready money into this section, yet with the maintenance of their lodges, tax on thousands of acres of land for the hunting privilege, traveling expenses and various other incidentals it is estimated that every bird killed in this section by the Northern hunters costs the slayer from $500 to $1,000. The fact of their great value in this respect has had considerable to do with arousing the people for a better game law—one that will prevent the utter extermination of the birds. In most of the counties about here the open season runs until March 15th, but many are now agitating a shorter season, something like for Forsyth has, 45 days, for at least five years.

BAPTISTS IN NEWBERN

Neuse Atlantic Association In Newbern — Graded Schools

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Newbern, N. C., Nov. 15.—The sixth annual meeting of the Neuse-Atlantic Baptist Association, which met in this city Tuesday for a three days' session, came to a close last night. LaGrange was chosen as the next place of meeting on the second Sunday in November, 1913. Rev. E. T. Carter, pastor of the First Baptist church of this city, was appointed to represent the association at the Southern Baptist Convention. Rev. C. H. Truebold, of Beaufort; Mr. T. B. Davis, of Morehead City; Rev. C. W. Blanchard, of Kinston, were appointed as delegates to the State Convention to be held at Goldsboro early in December. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Mr. M. L. Davis, of Morehead City, moderator; Mr. S. M. Brinson, of Newbern, vice moderator; Mr. Roy T. Cox, of Winterville, clerk; Prof. F. C. Nye, of Winterville, treasurer.

The report of the white graded schools of this city for the past month and which has just been issued, shows that the school was never in better condition. At the opening of the term the enrollment was larger than ever before and since that time, although there has been considerable sickness in the city during the past few weeks and many of the pupils have been detained at home on this account, the average attendance is very satisfactory. Prof. H. B. Craven, the efficient superintendent of the schools, states that he is more than pleased with the conditions now existing.

POLICEMAN CONFESSES

Manufactured Evidence In Case and Jury's Verdict Is Held Up

Cartersville, Ga., Nov. 15.—A confession by Policeman Cox that he aided in manufacturing evidence in the case and testified falsely brought a sudden halt this afternoon to the murder trial of W. J. Wooten, just as the jury rapped on the door to signify that they were ready with their verdict. Wooten is charged with the murder of W. H. Griffin, of Kingston, here several months ago.

Cox had testified to finding a pair of knucks at the scene of the shooting. He told the court today the weapon had been "planted" by James Burrowes, a former jailer, who told him to find and offer it to prove Wooten's justification in shooting Griffin.

Judge A. W. Fite immediately ordered the jury to withhold its verdict. Cox's testimony was impeached by the State and he was arrested for perjury. Burrowes also was arrested, charged with subordination of perjury.

At a night session of the court, the jury was permitted to return its verdict, manslaughter, with recommendations of mercy. The sentence is 10 years in the penitentiary. Lawyers gave notice of an appeal and bond was fixed at $10,000.

VIRGINIA CONFERENCE

Resolution Giving Women Rights of Laity Not Discussed

Lynchburg, Va., Nov. 15.—The resolution before the Virginia Methodist Conference in session here, giving to women of the Church the rights of the laity, did not develop the expected discussion today and on motion was tabled.

The case of Rev. J. F. Valliant, charged with inefficiency, was brought up this morning, but not disposed of. Speaking in his own defense, the minister produced a letter from his presiding elder, Rev. J. N. Potts. He prefaced the reading of the letter with the statement that "this letter is false from start to finish." A this point the matter was interrupted by a special order of the day.

A. M. E. CONFERENCE.

Second Day's Sessions at Wilson Mills Proceedings.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Wilson Mills, N. C., Nov. 15.—The second day's session of the North Carolina Conference of the A. M. E. church was devoted to the hearing of reports from the several charges. The dollar money fund reported at this Conference was $3,103.85, and is far in advance of last year. Rev. D. L. Grady preached the annual sermon last night to a large audience.

Bishop Coppin in receiving six young men for the ministry instructed the committee on admission to make the examination thorough; that a man cannot lead the people now who cannot stand in the forefront mentally, normally and spiritually.

Many charges are reporting large revivals during the year. There has been 1,928 accessions in the conference bounds this year. The Wilmington district leads in revivals and souls saved, as well in conference claims.

The Connectional Secretary of Finance, Jno. R. Hawkins, of Washington, D. C., arrived this evening and a general salutation was indulged. Prof. Hawkins is a favorite son of North Carolina, and the first layman in the history of the church to be elected to this office. He also opened the door to the layman to be elected to the General Educational secretaryship sixteen years ago, when the general conference met in Wilmington, N. C.

Prof. C. G. O'Kelly, president of Kittrell College, made a telling address this evening in behalf of the school after a report on education was read.

Rev. R. H. W. Leake, who by reason of age and long service claims membership in both the conferences of the State, is here.

Bishop Coppin, who is serving the district embracing the North Carolina Conferences, Virginia and Baltimore, is very much admired by the conference and is presiding with ease. Ministerial characters were examined and passed upon today.

FUNERAL OF PROF. BLAIR.

Greensboro Pays High Tribute to Prominent Educator—Services.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Greensboro, N. C., Nov. 15.—To pay a tribute of love and respect hundreds of present and former school children and citizens gathered in the large auditorium of the First Presbyterian church this morning, where at 11 o'clock funeral services over the body of Prof. Lee T. Blair were held. Members of the Greensboro Lodge, Knights of Pythias, also attended and marched from the church to Greene Hill cemetery for the burial in a body. The funeral service was held in the First church in order that the large number of school children might attend, the church of the deceased, Westminster Presbyterian, being unable to accommodate the large concourse of mourners. The funeral service was conducted by Rev. C. E. Hodgin, for 14 years pastor of the deceased, assisted by Rev. Dr. Melton Clark.

As a mark of respect to Prof. Blair, who came with the Greensboro schools at the time of their organization as graded schools, the doors of every school in the city were closed today. Hundreds of children seized the opportunity to attend the last service over their principal, while there were also middle-aged business men, old students of the deceased. The floral offerings were profuse and lovely, banking the casket and filling the chancel of the church.

WRECKED HER LIFE

Mrs. Marchman Tells of Daughter's Last Words—Cleghorn Missing

Ashburn, Ga., Nov. 15.—"I never want to lay eyes again on Tan Cleghorn; he has wrecked my life and I want him to reap his just reward,' was the accusation made by Miss Minnie Marchman, a farmer's daughter, against her fiancee just before she died, according to a statement made today by Mrs. Mattie Marchman, aged mother of the girl.

After the coroner's verdict, a warrant was issued charging young Cleghorn with poisoning Miss Marchman, but no trace of him had been found by officers late today. It was charged that Cleghorn gave Miss Marchman fruits and candy four days before she died in convulsions.

Her stomach is being analyzed by Atlanta chemists who today refused to divulge the nature of any discoveries they might have made.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

Association of Colleges and Schools of South Adjourns.

Spartanburg, S. C., Nov. 15.—The Association of Colleges and Preparatory Schools of the Southern States adjourned today after electing the following officers: J. L. Henderson, University of Texas, president; Thos. L. Baker, Tome Institute, Maryland, vice president; Bert E. Young, Vanderbilt University, secretary and treasurer.

Converse College, of this city, was admitted into the association, having attained the standard required for membership.

Best Treatment for All Complexion Ills

(From Woman's Tribune.)

I'll tell you my panacea for all complexion troubles. If the skin be colorless, sallow, muddy, over-red, if it be rough, blotchy, or pimply, there's nothing that will so surely overcome the condition as ordinary mercolized wax. The wax literally takes off a bad complexion—absorbs the dead and near-dead particles of surface skin, so gently, gradually, you experience no inconvenience at all. A new complexion is then in evidence, one so clear, spotless, delicately soft and beautiful, you look many years younger. One ounce of this wax, procurable at any drug store, will rejuvenate even the worst complexion. It is smeared on like cold cream before retiring and removed mornings with warm water. The mercolized wax habit is a healthier and more economical one than the cosmetic habit.

If the skin be wrinkled or flabby, bathe it daily in a solution made by dissolving an ounce of powdered saxolite in a half pint witch hazel. This acts immediately, affecting even the deepest wrinkles.—Elsie Desmond.

STRIKERS ATTACK TRAIN.

Miners Hold Up Passenger Train on C. & O.—Militia Ordered Out.

Charleston, W. Va., Nov. 15.—Striking miners tonight attacked a passenger train on the Cabin Creek branch of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad. The miners stopped the train and refused to allow it to proceed because two carloads of alleged strike-breakers were attached.

Governor Glasscock has ordered a company of the State militia from this city to the scene.

Philadelphia, Nov. 15.—Tony Ross, of New Castle, Pa., out-boxed Al. Palser, of Iowa, in a six-round bout tonight at the Olympia Athletic Club. Ross landed several hard blows on the jaw without staggering Palser, who did good work in the clinches, but was unable to overcome the lead Ross obtained by his cleverness. The latter weighed 194 pounds and Palser 220.
